40,000 TURKS TAKEN IN ERZERUM

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Petrograd, Feb. 17.—More than 40,000 Turkish soldiers and 110 guns were taken by the Russian army of Grand Duke Nicholas when the Ottoman fortress of Erzerum was captured, according to dispatches received here today from Tiflis.

In addition the Russians took vast quantities of military supplies which had been gathered at Erzerum for the Turkish soldiers operating in the Caucasus.

Attempts had been made to destroy these supplies, but the Russians stacked with such carelessness and moved so rapidly in their final attack that the greater part of the stores falling into the hands of the victorious assailants.

Part of the Ottoman army defending Erzerum succeeded in escaping, but fled in such utter rout that the Russian forces before them were rallied and strengthened by fresh forces that had marched from the west.

The Turkish losses in the conflict that raged for five days about the fortress of Erzerum are said to have been in the neighborhood of 25,000 killed and wounded.

Tiflis reports state that the battle of Erzerum was the fiercest that has ever been fought about a fortress in modern warfare. The Turks fought desperately, but one by one the mighty forts were taken by the Russians, who charged with the bayonet through breaches made by their artillery.

Turkish gun crews were bayoneted as they were still working their weapons, many refusing to surrender.

Within the line of forts the Turks, under direction of German officers, had constructed an elaborate system of trenches. There they made their last stand in defense of the city, but from the time that the forts fell the issue was never in doubt. While a curtain of fire from the Russian guns prevented reinforcements being sent to the troops in the trenches, picked regiments of the Grand Duke's army drove forward.

Unable to retreat because of the storm of shells falling behind them and overwhelmed by the fierceness of the Russian attacks, the Turks fought on in their trenches for two days, but when their ammunition gave out great masses surrendered.

The capture of Erzerum is hailed in Petrograd as one of the greatest victories ever won by Russian troops. The city is celebrating the triumph, while military experts are predicting a rapid advance of Grand Duke Nicholas into the heart of Armenia.

From army headquarters Emperor Nicholas today sent a message of congratulation to the grand duke.

NORTH SEA GALE CAUSES GREAT LOSS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Feb. 17.—Millions of dollars damage has been done by the gale which swept over the British Isles, the North Sea and the coast of Holland during the past 24 hours. It is feared that there has been considerable loss of life at sea for at least ten fishing boats which received no advance notice of the approaching storm, have failed to report to their home ports. They carried a total of about eighty seamen.

The work of the British patrol fleet of warships has been greatly hampered and many of the ships had to seek anchorage. However, there was no danger from attack, as the seas were so high that enemy ships could not approach the coast. Many mines have been washed ashore, having broken from their moorings.

The Norwegian steamship Hjordis was blown ashore on Blakeney Point near Norfolk, and ten men were drowned. The seamen were trying to reach shore in life boats when one of them was swamped.

Three men were drowned at Porthcawl when the fishing boat Narcissus dragged her anchor and went aground on Black Rock Reef.

POLICE ARREST SUSPECTED FIREBUG

Fred Van Steenburgh, Who Has a Long Criminal Record, Seen Coming Out of Barn at Time of Fire, Says he Was Not There.

A fire that was unquestionably of incendiary origin, in the large barn of Willis Roe on North Front street early Wednesday evening was followed by the arrest later of Fred Van Steenburgh on a charge of arson, who was held to await the action of the grand jury when arraigned before Recorder Lang this morning.

The fire was discovered about 7:45 o'clock and an alarm was rung in from Box No. 95, corner of Washington avenue and North Front street, which brought out Excelsior and Wiltwyck Hose Companies, the new automobile fire truck and the hook and ladder from the Central Fire Station.

The barn of Mr. Roe is situated in the rear of his saloon, and is a two-story frame structure. The upper part of the barn was filled with hay and straw, and ten horses were quartered in stalls on the lower floor. The fire was started in a stall near the entrance, but the hay and straw there were damp and did not burn readily. By the time the firemen arrived, the fire had been extinguished by Henry Kiernan, who had heard the shout of fire before the alarm was turned in.

Van Steenburgh, suspected fire bug and a young man who has a long criminal record, was arraigned this morning before Recorder Lang. The arrest was made by Sergeant Hanley. Van Steenburgh entered a plea of not guilty and waived examination to be held for the grand jury, which meets in March. He was held under $2,000 bail.

The arrest of Van Steenburgh was the outcome of information furnished by Policeman Van Buren on Wednesday by a woman who said that she had seen the young man come out of the barn and walk out to North Front street and after looking up and down the street and seeing no one, return to the barn. A little later she claims she saw him come out of the barn and that the barn was on fire.

The facts were immediately communicated to Sergeant Hanley by Policeman Van Buren and the former got busy and rounded up Van Steenburgh at No. 9 Converse street and placed him under arrest. It was said that the police have secured a signed statement from the woman.

On the other hand Van Steenburgh claims that he was in Rondout at the time the fire broke out. The young man was only released from the county jail on December 9, and since that time he has been living on Converse street, which is in the rear of the Roe barn.

The charge preferred against him by Chief Wood this morning was arson in the third degree.

Van Steenburgh was one of the first men arrested by Chief Wood when he was appointed head of the local police force. At that time Van Steenburgh was charged with indecent assault on a girl and he served a term in the penitentiary.

Two convictions were found against him in 1915. In January of last year he was with some other young men was arrested charged with stealing furs from the warehouse of Mr. Werblowsky in the lower section of the city. He served a jail sentence at that time.

In July he was arrested on the complaint of Harry Dempsey on a charge of petit larceny. It seems that Harry went in swimming at Kingston Point and he asked Van Steenburgh to hold his diamond ring while he was afraid he might lose it in the water. When Harry got through swimming he found that Van Steenburgh and the diamond ring were missing. For that job Van Steenburgh got five months in the county jail and was released on December 9.

It has been since his release from jail that a number of the large fires that are believed to have been of incendiary origin broke out in Kingston.

Bridgeport Steel Plant Burned.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 17.—Two firemen were caught under a falling wall and seriously injured and three main plants of the Farist Steel Company were destroyed by fire early today. The loss was $450,000. The plant has been engaged on a large war order for the Remington Arms and Ammunition Company. Reports that an explosion preceded the outbreak of the flames are being investigated, although the theory that a bomb might have been placed there is generally scouted.

Opium Raid in Albany.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Feb. 17.—Federal inspectors armed with a search warrant early today swooped down on a Chinese laundry in the business district and confiscated a large quantity of opium and arrested three Chinese.

It was said that the raid was the first in the campaign against drug users and dispensers in this vicinity. The prisoners were arraigned in Federal court here today and held to bail.

Southern Flood Work.
The striking section hands about Newburgh have been discharged by the railroad and new men engaged in their places. An up-state mining company had offered the men work at a camp in the Adirondacks. The company offered to pay transportation and pay $2.10 for an eight hour day.

EVIDENCE IN ORPET CASE DAMAGING.
William Orpet, Shortly After his Arrest, and Miss Marian Lambert, the Victim.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Much damaging evidence has been gathered against William Orpet, the University of Wisconsin student, accused of giving poison to Miss Marian Lambert, his sweetheart, a high school girl, whose body was found in a wooded section of Lake Forest. It has been discovered that Orpet bought a vial of a druggist in Madison, Wisconsin, shortly before keeping the trust with his sweetheart. A quantity of potassium was found buried near his father's home. The only bit of evidence supporting Orpet's claim of innocence is furnished by David James, an ice man and a deaf mute, who scribbled on a pad that he had seen a man press a vial to the lips of Miss Lambert in the woods and that the man was not Orpet.

RURAL SCHOOL WORK IN 1916

All Interested in Education Invited to Conference on Saturday Afternoon to Formulate Plans for Work for the Year.

All district superintendents of schools, principals, teachers and any and all others who are interested in the education of children and particularly interested in developing the home gardening and the home making spirit among children, are invited to a conference to be held Saturday afternoon, February 19, at 2 o'clock in the high school building in this city.

This meeting was previously arranged for the Farm Bureau office but that place will be too small to accommodate half of the people who have already signified their intention of coming.

The purpose of this meeting is to formulate a county wide plan for agricultural contests, home gardening, tent caterpillar contests, canning clubs and home economics work. The executive committee of the Ulster County Farm Bureau has already voted three prizes for the tent caterpillar contests among school children in the county, and also three prizes for an acre corn contest among the boys of the county between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one. Other prizes have been provided for and so it remains for those who meet Saturday to consider all the work that should be undertaken and establish a county wide system of carrying it on.

Miss Claribel Nye, who is working under the rural education department of Cornell, organizing canning club work, will be present to explain how her work is carried on and how little attention is required in co-operation from the district superintendents. If there is a large enough number of rural teachers present to warrant it, Miss Nye will give a demonstration along her line of work, so that the teachers may take the practical knowledge back to the rural schools and teach it to the children.

Either Prof. L. S. Hawkins or Mr. Getman of the agricultural division of the state educational department will be present to give suggestions from their experience in the state work.

Come and bring your friends who are interested.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Feb. 17.—Midweek prayer and praise services will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Reformed and Methodist Churches, also a service for ladies will be held at the M. E. parsonage. The meetings to commence promptly at 7:30 o'clock. A most cordial invitation is extended to all members of both churches to be present and spend an hour of profit together.

Mrs. Lucy Walker, who has spent a week in New York city, returned to her home on Schryver street Wednesday.

Mrs. Augustus Hemling and daughter, Grace, of Salem street, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. George Barley at May Park.

Mrs. Oswald Neher of Bayard street is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Lefever in Brooklyn.

On account of the death of one of the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church, the clam chowder sale will be postponed until Friday, February 25. Members of Division No. 3 kindly take notice.

WALDEN TO DEAL WITH CLEARWATER

After Bridgeport Gets Through With Him he Will be Taken to Walden to Face Charge of Deserting Wife and Child.

Defrauding a boarding house keeper will be the charge pressed by the local authorities against Allen Clearwater, 22, of Walden, N. Y. and formerly a resident of the home of Mrs. A. E. Hall at No. 695 Beechwood avenue, Bridgeport, who ran away last week with pretty 22 year old Emma J. Hall of the same address. Clearwater and the young woman have been apprehended in Winsted and are to be brought back to Bridgeport.

It has been discovered that Clearwater has a wife and ten months' old baby, whom he left in Walden January 23 when he came to Bridgeport to work in the Remington Arms company plant. He went to board at the Hall home and ran away with Miss Hall. The girl left a note to her mother stating that she and Clearwater had eloped and were going to be married.

The matter was reported to the police and investigation was started. Mrs. Hall communicated with Chief of Police Ronk of Walden and her suspicious that Clearwater was a married man were confirmed. The young couple were apprehended by the Winsted authorities Tuesday evening and word was telephoned to the police at Bridgeport.

No charge will be pressed against Miss Hall. She will be taken back to her home. Clearwater left without paying his board bill at the Hall home so he will face that charge.

When the Bridgeport authorities are through with him, Clearwater will be taken to Walden, where he will be charged with desertion of his wife and little son, Edward Clearwater.

BAXTER'S RELATIVES NOT YET LOCATED

Efforts made by Coroner E. A. Kelly to locate relatives of the hobo who died from a wound in the head inflicted by a bullet from a revolver fired by Charles Guadagnola at Saugerties on Tuesday night, have so far proved unavailing. The dead man was identified on Wednesday, as told in The Freeman at the time, by another hobo who said the body was that of a man named Baxter and that he originally came from Newark, N. J.

As soon as the body had been identified Coroner Kelly took the matter up with the chief of police of Newark and received a reply this morning stating that no relatives could be located. The coroner immediately related to the chief of police to have mention of the affair made in the Newark papers with a possibility that some of the dead man's relatives might see the item and reply.

The body is still at the undertaking parlors of the coroner on West Union street and will be held there for a few days in the hope that it might be claimed. If not claimed shortly the coroner will bury it in Potter's Field at the alms house.

REAL EXHIBITION OF DEEDS

Company M, Without Any Ornamental Glitter and Tinsel, Turns Out For Inspection in the Presence of 400 Spectators.

Before fully four hundred citizens of the city Company M turned out at the armory Wednesday evening for their annual muster and inspection. There was no tinsel or decoration, but a practical demonstration of what the local command could do if it were called into the field, an exhibition of competence that entered into thorough military preparation. The exhibition given at the inspection should stimulate interest in the militia in this city, which no doubt will be the means of many young men enlisting in Company M. At present there is a few vacancies in the ranks which could be filled up readily if some of the young men had love of country at heart.

The inspecting officers, Major Dayton, assistant inspector general, division N. G. N. Y., and Captain Townsend of the Twenty-second U. S. Infantry, detailed to the state of New York as inspector-instructor, arrived in this city Wednesday morning from Catskill, where they inspected Company E of the Tenth Infantry. Major George Chandler of this city was also one of the inspecting officers, representing the Tenth Infantry. He accompanied the other officers wherever a unit of the Tenth Infantry was inspected or will be inspected.

Captain Howard E. Snyder, Captain of the Tenth Infantry, and Captain Cranston of the medical department, were also in attendance at the armory. The local command was honored by having all these officers present on this occasion.

During the afternoon the inspectors, accompanied by the officers of Company M, made an inspection of the armory building and property. The quartermaster's department was given a rigid inspection and found to be all that was required, after which the company books were gone over and found to be correct in every detail. The lockers of the men, as well as their rifles, were also closely inspected. The findings of the officers will be reported to headquarters at Albany and to the war department at Washington.

After the inspection and muster of the men, which showed that every man was accounted for, giving Company M a mark of 100 per cent in attendance, which is nothing unusual for the local command, Captain Meagher gave his men a spirited drill in close order. This exhibition of drilling brought forth applause from the citizens, who were alert in showing their appreciation in having such a fine company of guardsmen in Kingston. Captain Meagher then turned the company over to Lieutenant Dittus and Cashin, the lieutenants taking their place in close order drill. The sergeants and corporals were also given a chance to show their part of the work required. Following the close order drills, extended order was taken up by the company, which worked out a problem in attack, the squad leaders having their men under firm control. After the extended order drill the company was reformed and dismissed by the first sergeant.

STONE RIDGE AS A WINTER RESORT

Since their purchase of the Stone Ridge Hotel some months ago Mr. and Mrs. Russell Satterlee have made this famous old country hotel one of the most popular stopping places in the county for the tourist or for parties from Kingston and vicinity. Who find the hospitable atmosphere and the excellent meals served under Mrs. Satterlee's supervision greatly to their liking. People from points more remote are also giving the hotel their patronage. Dr. and Mrs. John Hasbrouck, M. F. Hasbrouck, William Hasbrouck and Mr. Case, a business associate of M. F. Hasbrouck—all of New York city—were guests at the hotel the past week. All of the party were delighted with the hotel and the charming scenery in and about Stone Ridge. Long jaunts over the hills on snowshoes, tobogganing on the incline back of the hotel, sleighing, bobsledding and feats of skill and daring on the big big Norwegian skis the guests had brought with them were the sports which the city folks enjoyed during their visit. The New Yorkers departed Sunday evening, unanimous in the opinion that never had they enjoyed themselves more. One and all declared Mr. and Mrs. Satterlee most excellent hosts, and "Au Revoir" but not "Good-bye" was said to the hotel and Mr. Satterlee and wife. For it is the firm intention of the jolly crowd to again visit Stone Ridge in the near future.

WALKER VALLEY.

Walker Valley, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Silas Miller, who has been visiting her son, Charles Miller, in Middletown, returned home Monday.

H. B. Griffin of Harbor Haven is spending a few days with his family here.

F. E. Evans of Brooklyn spent Saturday with his mother and looked after his business interests here. Steward Coddington has erysipelas in his face.

The Sunday school will hold a dime social at the home of Miss Winifred Griffin, known as the Charles Evans property, on February 22. Martha and George will be there. Music and entertainment will be given.

We understand Mrs. Schlimmer has sold her farm.

G. U. Evans has bronchitis and Grace Vandemark has tonsillitis. The thermometer fell to 22 below in this place Monday and Tuesday morning.

The post office was moved Saturday to the store of Fred Hundermark, our new postmaster.

This place was saddened over the death of Mrs. Rudolph Richards, on January 28, in Brooklyn, of Bright's disease. Mrs. Richards was formerly a resident of this place.

George Marshall spent Friday in New York and Mrs. Marshall spent Friday in Pine Bush.

S. J. Evans of Brooklyn spent Lincoln's birthday in this place. Mr. Evans spent the past summer in the Walker House and he tells us he expects to come back again this summer. Mr. Evans has a number of friends here.

LANESVILLE.

Lanesville, Feb. 17.—H. S. and C. R. Lane were Phoenicia callers on Tuesday.

Mrs. Thomas Jansen and children are visiting Mrs. Jansen's father, Charles Dunham, in Spruett, who is very ill at the present writing.

Miss Jessie Barber, who has been attending her aunt, Mrs. D. Curtis, during her illness, returned to her home in Tannersville Monday.

Mrs. E. J. Daly and Miss Elsie Lane, who have been spending the past few weeks in the city, have returned home.

Mrs. C. North called on friends in Phoenicia Tuesday.

Van Curtis of Coxsackie is visiting friends and relatives here.

The young people of this place are practicing for a play to be given in the near future.

Mrs. Asa Crosby was suddenly called to her home in Hensonville last week by the illness of her father, Mr. Stillwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Delamater and children of Newark, N. J., are visiting Mrs. Delamater's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Curtis.

Elmer Schofield of Fish Eddy was a business caller here on Saturday last.

Francis Barber left on Wednesday morning for Bridgeport, Conn., where he has obtained work.

There will be a dance held at the Lanesville Hotel Monday evening, February 21. Music by Foster's orchestra. Everyone cordially invited.

Optimistic Thought.

After crosses and losses men grow humbler and wiser.

AS WE GROW OLDER

our minds are quite as active as in former years but our strength does not respond when we need it most; perhaps the kidneys are weak, the liver torpid, rheumatic pains or stiffened joints beset us, and we cannot easily throw off the colds that winter brings.

What we need is the rich cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion to renew the blood and carry strength to every organ of the body, while its glycerine soothes the respiratory tract, and its hypophosphites strengthen the excitable nerves.

Scott's Emulsion is a scientific oil-food, of unusual benefit to those past fifty years—particularly during the colder seasons, it imparts warmth and creates strength. One bottle will prove its worth. No alcohol or harmful drugs.

GARNISHES FOR SOUP.

It is often the tasty garnish which takes the soup out of the common into the unusual.

Almond Balls.—Pound a dozen almonds to a fine powder. Beat two eggs light, season with salt and pepper, add the almonds, half a teaspoonful of minced parsley and three-fourths of a cupful of flour sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder. Mix and roll into very small balls and drop into the boiling soup to cook for five minutes before serving.

Marrow Balls.—Take a piece of marrow the size of an egg, add a cupful of crumbs, moisten with cold water, add two eggs unbeaten and shape into small balls. Add to the boiling soup and cook very gently two minutes.

Croutons.—Trim crusts from bread and cut in half dice. Toast in the oven and fry in deep fat. If toasted in the oven, spread the slices with butter before cutting in dice.

Egg Custard.—Beat three eggs and add half a cupful of highly seasoned beef stock. Butter a small pan and pour the mixture into it. Set the pan in another of warm water and place in a moderate oven for half an hour until the custard is set. Cool and cut in squares and add to the soup just before serving.

Egg Balls.—Chop fine four hard-cooked eggs, add a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, two tablespoonfuls of grated cheese, a cupful of bread crumbs and a pinch of salt, with a dash of red pepper. Bind with the yolks of two eggs or a half cupful of cream. Make into balls, dip in egg and crumbs, fry in deep fat and add to the clear soup when ready to serve.

Soup Balls.—Roll cracker crumbs, mix with butter and make into firm balls the size of a marble. Drop in the soup when ready to serve.

Quenelles.—Take small bits of meat, finely chopped, mixed with crumbs and bound with egg, shape into balls, dip in egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat. Add to the soup when serving.

BEARSVILLE.

Bearsville, Feb. 17.—Miss Edna Shultis, who has been visiting relatives in New York and Long Island, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harford Reynolds have returned home after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cornford, of Madalin.

Mrs. F. G. Shultis spent a few days the past week with her daughter, Edythe, at Kingston.

Miss Inez Yerry spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Kathryn DeGraff.

Several from this place attended the auction at Mrs. Mary Lasher's on Saturday.

Genevieve D. Shultis was very busy engaged in making maple sugar Sunday afternoon.

Sleighing is fine and we all hope it will continue so.

The Misses Gladys Short of Wittenberg and Genevieve Shultis of this place called on Leslie Elwyn on Tuesday.

SUBMARINE WAR SITUATION TODAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Feb. 17.—How the new submarine situation aligns today:

United States—Requests written from Germany through Ambassador von Bernstorff that the Teutonic allies agree not to torpedo passenger liners whether armed or unarmed without warning. Secretary Lansing told the ambassador the whole question of submarine warfare again is under consideration and that it is the future and not the past with which the United States is concerned.

Germany—Ambassador von Bernstorff said Germany could not make such a pledge unless Great Britain and her allies in return pledged that the admiralty orders to British and French merchantmen to ram and resist submarines shall not operate in the case of their passenger liners whether armed or unarmed.

What Both Governments are Doing—United States considering whether it can secure the pledges asked. Ambassador von Bernstorff referring entire matter to Berlin for its decision.

SOCIETY NOTES.

A musicale and reception will be given in St. Joseph's school hall Monday evening, March 6, at 8:15, under the auspices of the united societies of the church. Muller's orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

The subscription dance given Wednesday night at St. Mary's Hall was most successful, about a hundred couples dancing to the music of Zito's orchestra of Albany, which was composed of seven pieces. This affair was the first of the series of dances preceding Lent and started off the social season right merrily.

The Lowry-Lawrence entertainers gave the last number of the Dutch Arms course last night in the Fair Street Reformed Church, and were up to the high standard set by the other entertainments of this course. A large audience greeted these pleasing entertainers and their selections on the harp and readings were received with much applause.

Walker-White.

Miss Ellen Eva White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles White of this city, and George W. Walker of Albany were married by the Rev. Dr. A. K. Fuller at the parsonage of the Wurts Street Baptist Church at 10:30 this morning. They were attended by the bride's mother and her brother, Charles White. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will reside in Schenectady.

Athlathacton Club.

The Athlathacton Club met this week at the home of Mrs. Harry Winne on Main street, there being an excellent attendance. Mrs. Winne had the paper for the day, her subject, "Percy Mac Kaye," the dramatic poet, who has done so much to promote the pageant idea of presenting the local history of various communities, according to the Greek ideas, being especially well presented. Mrs. Winne also read from Mac Kaye's poems and gave synopses of others of his works. The next meeting of the club will be with Miss Margaret Loughran, at her home on Main street.

Rehn-Lasher.

The marriage of Frederick J. Rehn and Miss Adella M. Lasher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Lasher, of this city, took place at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., on Tuesday, February 15, at noon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. H. Rehn at the home of the groom's sister. None except relatives and a few intimate friends attended the wedding. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rehn departed for a honeymoon to Philadelphia, Washington and southern points. The bride was formerly bookkeeper for S. B. Thing & Company. Mr. Rehn is an assistant engineer of the board of water supply at Ashokan and has charge of hydrographic work. Upon their return to Kingston Mr. and Mrs. Rehn will reside at 31 Janet street, where a newly furnished home awaits them.

Pantomime En Masque.

Much interest is being shown in the black and white dance to be given by the members of the Monday Afternoon Sewing Club at St. Mary's Hall on Friday evening, February 25th, both because of the object, that of raising funds for the furtherance of the Day Nursery work, and because the dances given by these young ladies are always so delightful socially. Those who attend, will undoubtedly be surprised at the interesting and unusual effect of an entire evening gathering of people all in black and white costume. The pantomime to be given as the entertainment feature of the dance will also be unique, as those who participate will appear, wearing little black masks, and the entire pantomime will be in black and white. Tickets may be purchased of the following, who are members of the club: Mrs. G. Wallace Codwise, Miss Eleanor Chipp, Miss Marjorie Drake, Mrs. Harold King, Miss Sarah Horton, Miss Doris Hasbrouck, Mrs. Burwell Harrison, Miss Margaret Loughran, Mrs. Walter Lovatt, Miss Frances Preston, Miss Dorothy Schoonmaker, Miss Kate Van Etten, Miss Jane Van Etten, Mrs. William Warren, Mrs. Charles Warren and Miss May Young.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW PLANS BEING MADE

The executive committee of the automobile show to be held in the armory the last part of this month, in conjunction with the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce met at the Eagle Hotel Wednesday night and discussed plans for the coming show. The drawing for space to display cars in the armory during the show will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Eagle Hotel.

Dealers in automobiles, accessories, motorcycles, magazines, etc., who wish to display their wares at the show must apply for space before Saturday, February 26, to William G. Merritt, secretary of the committee. These spaces will be allotted at the meeting of February 28th. All dealers wishing to display cars, accessories, etc., must be a member of the Ulster County Automobile Association.

Dr. Meinhardt, secretary of the association will be present Friday evening to receive the dues of those wishing to become members of the organization. Exhibitors must pay for spaces required before the drawing.

There is a great demand by dealers of cars for space at the armory and the best cars in the country will be exhibited at the show, which, although the first in this city, gives promise of being one of the best along the Hudson.

The men who are behind the show and upon whose shoulders fall the brunt of the work are the following: members of the executive committee: Chairman, Everett Fowler; treasurer, F. R. Powley; secretary, William G. Merritt; R. E. Leighton, Elvah H. Bogart, Dr. H. F. Meinhardt, William M. Davis, A. H. Chambers, John R. Millard, Martin Snyder.

The members of the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce present at the meeting last night were: V. A. Gorman, chairman; E. P. MacFadden, John H. Gregory, and James A. Canfield, secretary of the Chamber.

WHY IS THIS THUS?

Sidewalk Uncleaned and Blocked at Times by Teams.

Kingston, Feb. 16, 1916.

Editor Freeman:

I would like to inquire if the ordinance adopted by the common council, and signed by the mayor as supposed to be enforced by the police? I had always thought that this was the case, but today I learned that it all depends on the matter or people involved.

A city ordinance directs that property owners or occupants remove snow or ice from sidewalks in a certain number of hours after the cessation of storm. Today, at least, there are two places on Greenkill avenue, which have not been touched, and at one of these places, the teams delivering and taking stock away use the sidewalks for a road for a distance of 175 feet, and then back up and block the entire walk for long periods of time, compelling everyone to wade in the snow or mud as the case may be. Is there any remedy? The police claim it is up to the board of public works. The charter says the police must enforce the laws. Who is who? 10TH WARD TAXPAYERS.

Bu's Parent-Teacher Club.

The Parent-Teacher Club of School No. 6, held a small but enthusiastic meeting on Tuesday afternoon of this week. Mr. Kidney, principal of the school, in behalf of the teachers and school, thanked the club for the excellent and valuable "first aid" cabinet presented by the club to the school. Arrangements were made to hold a sale of cake and ice cream on March 28, when Prof. French will give another stereopticon lecture, the subject to be announced later. The club accepted invitations to attend the teachers' institute, to be held at the high school on February 21 and 22, and also the entertainment, etc., to be given during "Baby Week." Arrangements were made for a cup and saucer shower to be given at the next meeting of the club, Tuesday, March 21, when cake and tea will be served.

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB. 17, 1916.

It was widely advertised that on Wednesday Secretary Lansing would be able to announce that the Lusitania negotiations with Germany had been brought to a satisfactory conclusion. Instead of that the Secretary stated that "the whole question of submarine warfare is again under consideration by our Government." This set-back is due to the uncertainty as to Germany's attitude, which cannot be explained by Ambassador Bernstorff himself. During the correspondence regarding the Lusitania and Arabic cases the German Government promised unequivocally to sink no more liners without warning, but has since announced that after March 1 all enemy ships which carry a gun will be destroyed. Since it is obviously impossible for a submarine commander to make sure of the existence of a defensive weapon on his prospective prey, it seems impossible to reconcile the two proclamations of policy. So far as international law is concerned, there is no question of the right of a merchant vessel to carry a gun in her stern, which is done purely for defensive purposes, since it is absurd to think of a vessel making an aggressive fight from its rear end, mule fashion. This has been the rule ever since the days of pirates. The Germans want to change this rule because a stern gun makes it dangerous for submarines to approach from behind, since they are unable to submerge themselves quickly enough to dodge a shot. The German efficiency which we have heard so much about ought to be able to make the submarines more spy. It is a safe prediction that Lansing and Bernstorff will keep up their futile conferences for the next year or so. After that nobody will care what either of them says.

A maddening degree of insolence is that manifested by Jean Crones, the chef charged with the attempted poisoning of nearly three hundred guests at the recent banquet to Archbishop Mundelein in Chicago. Not content with remaining in hiding, Crones has written a letter to the New York Times giving the details of his death-dealing efforts which speaks volumes for the thoroughness of correspondence school chemistry, if not for its spelling. Such letters as these throw the authorities off the track quite as frequently as more familiar methods of evading the police. This same exaggerated ego was displayed by Ignatius T. Lincoln, the alleged spy whose telephone pranks with the newspapers brought so much discomfiture to the Manhattan police. Crones is up to the same tricks. It may be, however, that taught-by-mail chemistry does not give a course in crime and the baffling of the police. Some one may yet "spill the beans" for Chef Crones the same as some one watered the soup in Chicago and unconsciously saved the lives of the anarchist-intended victims.

It is announced that Administration bills providing for an enlargement of our army are nearly ready, but that the navy-building program will not be announced before May at the earliest. Of course, the introduction of bills as important as these are a mere beginning, to be followed by months of discussion. It looks as though another President will be inaugurated before anything is accomplished. Under the circumstances, perhaps, advocates of preparedness should be thankful that the subject is allowed to come up even for discussion, inasmuch as it was but little more than a year ago that the President refused to let it in his address to Congress, "with a sneer." There is nothing for patriots to do about it except to reflect upon the motto engraved on our coins, "In God We Trust." It has become evident to all who have eyes to see and ears to hear that great trouble is ahead of us unless we are prompt in strengthening our power. Only a few days ago it was stated in the United States Senate that Germany was trying to buy a canal zone through Nicaragua, and was outbidding our Government. That means a direct challenge to the Monroe doctrine. Of course, we are safe enough while the war lasts, but it may end as suddenly as it began, in which event any nation so disposed may reduce said doctrine to the status of "a scrap of paper." If this happens, the cost of re-establishing the principle will be twenty times more than the expenditure now advocated by the most enthusiastic apostle of preparedness.

Some genius has just figured up measurements or rather, measured up figures, which show that the Wellesley College girls in the aggregate are the superior to the Venus de Milo in waist measurements and other anatomical details of the feminine human form divine. This is most assuredly a harmless pursuit and it is interesting to know that the Wellesley girls' waist is the fraction of an inch smaller than the standard of pulchritude for which the Venus has stood these many years. But as a real test the length of the masculine arm is always supposed to most satisfactorily establish waist measurements, whether these be for college or factory girls. From a woman's college, it might not be unwarranted to expect comparisons along other lines, say with Minerva perhaps as the standard for measurements. Yet wisdom never did appeal to the popular mind as that mind is viewed by the publicity agent. So it is best to let the college girls' measurements get by without investigation—for one probably would not be permitted anyhow.

CAPABLANCA WILL NOT REPLY.

Marshall, U. S. Chess Champion, Would Contest Pan-American Title.

Considerable interest is created in chess circles by the challenge sent by F. J. Marshall, United States chess champion, to Jose R. Capablanca, the chess champion of Cuba, who is also known as the Pan-American champion since his defeat of Mr. Marshall in 1909. Mr. Marshall is scheduled to play an exhibition game of chess on Friday, March 3, at the Kingston Club. In his challenge to Capablanca, Mr. Marshall suggests that they agree on the cash prize and play one-half the games in America and one-half in Cuba under the usual international rules. Because the challenge read "to decide the title of Pan-American champion," Capablanca refused to reply to it, saying that he was not obliged to play to decide a question already settled. If Mr. Marshall challenges him as the Pan-American champion, it would be another matter, he said. He would then be willing to play under the world championship rules as adopted in St. Petersburg in 1914.

PATAUKUNK.

Pataukunk, Feb. 17.—The many friends of Chancellor Quick of Leibhardt were greatly shocked Monday morning when they heard of his sudden death. Mr. Quick had a great many friends for wherever he went he became fast friends with all he met. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Mr. Quick had a pleasant smile and a cherry greeting for everyone. We all extend our heartfelt sympathy to those in bereavement of their dear one.

Miss Bessie D. Christian of Kingston visited her mother, Mrs. Joseph Christian, Sunday.

Dr. Kirchhoff from the city spent the week end with his family at "Chloeon Villa."

Miss Maude Gray and brother, Oliver, of Palentown visited at Jerry Simpson's Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

A jolly load of young people of this place attended a surprise party at the home of Alfred Markle of Mombaccus Friday evening. They returned home in the wee small hours of the morning, reporting a fine time.

Miss Della Osterhout entertained a number of callers Friday evening.

Miss Sadie Simpson delightfully entertained her friend, Miss Leila Burger, of Clintondale, Saturday and Sunday. Miss Burger was formerly a resident of this place.

Silas Van Etten, Jr., is spending some time in the city. We wish him a fine time.

Harry Quick of Gardiner has been spending some time visiting relatives in this city.

Mrs. Simmons, who has been in poor health, is improving.

Mrs. Herman Quick of Leibhardt and Miss Sadie Simpson were Ellenville visitors on Saturday.

Adam Stritter and family of Mt. Vernon will soon move in Fort Sumter cottage, on 43rd street.

QUARRYVILLE.

Quarryville, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Ford Hummel of Kingston spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Van Steenburgh.

Charles D. Snyder of Madalin spent Tuesday at Arthur Magee's.

Frank Schoonmaker and family of West Saugerties spent a few days last week at Joshua Post's.

Mrs. Myron Fiero is able to be out again after the grip.

Monday and Tuesday mornings were the coldest of the year so far. Old Jack Frost stole into most every house and left his mark.

Next Sunday the rite of baptism and reception of members will be observed at the M. E. Church.

The revival services at the M. E. Church were brought to a close last Friday night after six weeks of successful meetings. About 40 converts have been the result.

Owing to the storm there was no service at the churches Sunday.

George Richtmyer and wife of Schenectady spent last week with Mrs. Kate Taylor and family.

St. James's Missionary Society.

On account of the Missionary Society of the First Reformed Church meeting on Friday afternoon, February 25, the Missionary Society of St. James's M. E. Church will meet Friday of this week with Mrs. Richard Bell on Pearl street. Mrs. Baragwanath will have charge of the devotional services, assisted by Mrs. Louis Basten. Mite boxes should be brought in at this meeting as they are to be opened at this date.

Catskill's Centennial.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Your name, please, Miss." "Iona Carr." "Oh, do you? What make?" —Boston Transcript.

"I notice you are partial to college graduates." "Yes, they make good workers. They're always thankful to get a job." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Fatty Mack eats like a bird." "Like a bird? Why, he shovels in his food like an elephant." "Just what a said. Takes a peck at every mouthful." —Baltimore American.

On the Links—Duffer (in difficulties)—"What do you do when you get in a place like this?" Scotch Friend—"Swear like the devil, I'm verra sorry to say." —Boston Transcript.

"I see the Russians have been compelled to give up Przemyśl." "Well, if they're going in for temperance, they may as well give up Przemyśl, vodka and all their drinks." —Buffalo Express.

"Do you always say what you think in your speeches?" "No," answered Senator Guff. "I find it safer to say what I think my constituents want me to say, and in such a way that it is subject to at least two interpretations." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

"What do you think of my graduation essay?" asked the young man. "Fine!" replied the father. "Only I'm afraid a lot of people are going to be bashful about offering plain wages to a man whose intellect is so much above the average." —Washington Star.

Adam's Distinction.

Pat, who had been summoned for beating his wife, did all he knew to put the blame onto his mother-in-law, and, in consequence, was chided by the court for his lack of gallantry.

"Why people should think it clever and right to malign their mothers-in-law I don't know," remarked the magistrate. "Is chivalry quite dead among us? I could," he added, tell you of men who never once said an unkind word to their mothers-in-law, who never had the bad taste to complain about their mothers-in-law's actions, who never—" "I only know of one, your honor," interrupted Pat.

The magistrate scowled. "And if you want to know his name, your honor," went on Pat, "it's Adam." —New York Times.

Told His Wife.

A local preacher, who was in the habit of taking his wife with him to his preaching appointments, said on arrival at the chapel, "My dear, you go in there; you will be all right. I must go round to the vestry."

In the vestibule the wife was met by a kind-hearted steward, who, after giving her a hearty welcome and a hymn book, conducted her to a comfortable seat. At the close of the service the same kind-hearted steward gave her a hearty shake of the hand, adding how pleased he would be to see her at the services each Sunday.

Then, whispering, he said: "But let me tell you, we don't get a duffer like this in the pulpit every Sunday." —Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Esprit d'Appros.

Richard M. Gibbs, the young socialistic writer, being strong for the allies, often attends German-American meetings as a heckler.

At a recent German-American meeting in St. Louis a speaker referred to the Fatherland's food shortage.

"But the government is doing all in her power to protect the people," he said. "There has now been set up a commission to control the consumption of cheese."

"The Watch on the Rhine, eh?" shouted Mr. Gibbs from the gallery.

"Yet the government, for all its care, finds it more and more difficult to appease the hungry people," the speaker went on. "In their hunger the people are getting out of hand. What is to be done with them?"

"Put a bit in their mouths," shouted Mr. Gibbs.—Washington Star.

A Surprise.

E. Berry Wall, apropos of a notorious divorce, said, in New York: "The morals of our upper ten! The morals of the people who occupy the horseshoe tier at the opera!"

"Two chorus girls were talking behind the scenes at the opera one evening:

"Oh," said the first, with a shocked air, "oh, look who Mr. Van Astor has got in his box with him!"

"The other girl looked, and her astonishment was also marked. "Goodness gracious!" she said, "if it isn't his wife!" —New York Telegraph.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

February 17, 1896.—Ponckhockie public library incorporated with D. B. Abbey as president.

Death of Mrs. Theodore Sloot.

February 17, 1906.—Coal car jumped the track on the U. & D. at Grand Gorge and delayed traffic while a new bridge was replaced.

Pot of paint used on the Crosby building on Wall street fell, striking horse and wagon and covering advance agent of show playing at the opera house with paint.

LACKAWACK.

Lackawack, Feb. 17.—Sunday night was the coldest night we have had this winter, 26 below zero.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Empt of Yagerville on Sunday.

Mr. Shields expects to start in the ice business Wednesday.

We are having quite a young winter again with about fourteen inches of snow and fine sleighing.

Mrs. Sarah Bryers is ill.

Fruit Growers' Convention.

The three days convention of the New York Fruit Growers' Association opened Wednesday morning in the armory at Poughkeepsie. There were a number of excellent exhibits of fruit and one of the finest was that of the Hudson River Fruit Exchange, Inc., of Milton, in charge of Fred Vail.

SUBMARINE WAR SITUATION TODAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Feb. 17.—How the new submarine situation aligns today:

United States—Requests written from Germany through Ambassador von Bernstorff that the Teutonic allies agree not to torpedo passenger liners whether armed or unarmed without warning. Secretary Lansing told the ambassador the whole question of submarine warfare again is under consideration and that it is the future and not the past with which the United States is concerned.

Germany—Ambassador von Bernstorff said Germany could not make such a pledge unless Great Britain and her allies in return pledged that the admiralty orders to British and French merchantmen to ram and resist submarines shall not operate in the case of their passenger liners whether armed or unarmed.

What Both Governments are Doing—United States considering whether it can secure the pledges asked: Ambassador von Bernstorff referring entire matter to Berlin for its decision.

SOCIETY NOTES.

A musicale and reception will be given in St. Joseph's school hall Monday evening, March 6, at 8:15 under the auspices of the united societies of the church. Muller's orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

The subscription dance given Wednesday night at St. Mary's hall was most successful, about a hundred couples dancing to the music of Zita's orchestra of Albany, which was composed of seven pieces. This affair was the first of the series of dances preceding Lent and started off the social season right merrily.

The Lowry-Lawrence entertainers gave the last number of the Dutch Arms course last night in the Fair Street Reformed Church, and were up to the high standard set by the other entertainers of this course. A large audience greeted these pleasing entertainers and their selections on the harp and readings were received with much applause.

Walker-White.

Miss Ellen Eva White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles White of this city, and George W. Walker of Albany were married by the Rev. Dr. A. K. Fuller at the parsonage of the Wurts Street Baptist Church at 10:30 this morning. They were attended by the bride's mother and her brother, Charles White. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will reside in Schenectady.

Atkinson Club.

The Atkinson Club met this week at the home of Mrs. Harry Winne on Main street, there being an excellent attendance. Mrs. Winne had the paper for the day, her subject, Percy Mac Kaye, the dramatic poet, who has done so much to promote the pageant idea of presenting the local history of various communities, according to the Greek ideas, being especially well presented. Mrs. Winne also read from Mac Kaye's poems and gave synopses of others of his works. The next meeting of the club will be with Miss Margaret Loughran, at her home on Main street.

Rehn-Lasher.

The marriage of Frederick J. Rehn and Miss Adella M. Lasher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Lasher, of this city, took place at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., on Tuesday, February 15, at noon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. H. Rehn at the home of the groom's sister. None except relatives and a few intimate friends attended the wedding. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rehn departed for a honeymoon to Philadelphia, Washington and southern points. The bride was formerly bookkeeper for S. B. Thig & Company. Mr. Rehn is an assistant engineer of the board of water supply at Ashokan and has charge of hydrographic work. Upon their return to Kingston Mr. and Mrs. Rehn will reside at 31 Janet street, where a newly furnished home awaits them.

Pantomime En Masque.

Much interest is being shown in the black and white dance, to be given by the members of the Monday Afternoon Sewing Club at St. Mary's hall on Friday evening, February 18th, both because of the object, that of raising funds for the furtherance of the Day Nursery work, and because the dances given by these young ladies are always so delightful socially. Those who attend, will undoubtedly be surprised at the interesting and unusual effect of an entire evening gathering of people all in black and white costume. The pantomime to be given as the entertainment feature of the dance will also be unique, as those who participate will appear, wearing little black masks, and the entire pantomime will be in black and white. Tickets may be purchased of the following, who are members of the club: Mrs. C. Wallace Codwise, Miss Eleanor Chipp, Miss Marjorie Drake, Mrs. Harold King, Miss Sarah Horton, Miss Doris Hasbrouck, Mrs. Burrill Harrison, Miss Margaret Loughran, Mrs. Walter Lovett, Miss Frances Preston, Miss Dorothy Schoonmaker, Miss Kate Van Etten, Miss Jane Van Etten, Mrs. William Warren, Mrs. Charles Warren and Miss May Young.

The executive committee of the automobile show to be held in the armory the last part of this month, in conjunction with the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce met at the Eagle Hotel Wednesday night and discussed plans for the coming show. The drawing for space to display cars in the armory during the show will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Eagle Hotel.

Dealers in automobiles accessories, motorcycles, magazines, etc., who wish to display their wares at the show must apply for space before Saturday, February 26, to William G. Merritt, secretary of the committee. These spaces will be allotted at the meeting of February 28th. All dealers wishing to display cars, accessories, etc., must be a member of the Ulster County Automobile Association.

Dr. Meinhardt, secretary of the association will be present Friday evening to receive the dues of those wishing to become members of the organization. Exhibitors must pay for spaces required before the drawing.

There is a great demand by dealers of cars for space at the armory and the best cars in the country will be exhibited at the show, which, although the first in this city, gives promise of being one of the best along the Hudson.

The men who are behind the show and upon whose shoulders fall the brunt of the work are the following: Chairman, Everett Fowler; treasurer, F. R. Powley; secretary, William G. Merritt; R. E. Leighton, Elvah H. Bogart, Dr. H. F. Meinhardt, William M. Davis, A. H. Chambers, John R. Millard, Martin Snyder.

The members of the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce present at the meeting last night were: V. A. Gorman, chairman; E. F. MacFadden, John H. Gregory, and James A. Canfield, secretary of the Chamber.

WHY IS THIS THUS?

Sidewalk Uncleaned, and Blocked at Times by Teams.

Kingston, Feb. 16, 1916.

Editor Freeman: I would like to inquire if the ordinance adopted by the common council, and signed by the mayor as supposed to be enforced by the police? I had always thought that this was the case, but today I learned that it all depends on the matter or people involved.

A city ordinance directs that property owners or occupants remove snow or ice from sidewalks in a certain number of hours after the cessation of storm. Today, at least, sixty hours after the last storm, there are two places on Greenkill avenue, which have not been touched, and at one of these places, the teams delivering and taking stock away use the sidewalks for a road for a distance of 175 feet, and then back up and block the entire walk for long periods of time, compelling everyone to wade in the snow or mud as the case may be. Is there any remedy? The police claim it is up to the board of public works. The charter says the police must enforce the laws. Who is who?

10TH WARD TAXPAYERS.

Busy Parent-Teacher Club. The Parent-Teacher Club of School No. 6, held a small but enthusiastic meeting on Tuesday afternoon of this week. Mr. Kidner, principal of the school, in behalf of the teachers and school, thanked the club for the excellent and valuable "first aid" cabinet presented by the club to the school. Arrangements were made to hold a sale of cake and ice cream on March 28, when Prof. French will give another stereopticon lecture, the subject to be announced later. The club accepted invitations to attend the teachers' institute, to be held at the high school on February 21 and 22, and also the entertainment, etc., to be given during "Baby Week." Arrangements were made for a cup and saucer shower to be given at the next meeting of the club, Tuesday, March 21, when cake and tea will be served.

WILL REVIVAL EFFECTS LAST

A Retrospect and a Look Into the Possibilities Ahead--Will Lasting Good Result From the Recent Union Services?

(Contributed.)

AFTER THE REVIVAL, WHAT?

The striking title of the sermon in one of our city churches last Sunday was the above. How it was handled, we do not know, but we doubt not that it was with the characteristic force and energy of the able pastor. But whatever he said was from the viewpoint of the pulpit. Possibly it may look differently from the pew.

Let us see:
Great, and, to many, surprising things have taken place in the upper part of the city during the past month. A great church has been thronged, no matter what the weather might be, by an enthusiastic audience. No one ever suspected that so many people could crowd into St. James's Church. The last night it was estimated that three thousand were present.

Five preachers presented the gospel, and a stranger would have been unable to pick out Baptist, Reformed or Methodist. Infant baptism, nor immersion, nor the divine decrees were not mentioned, but "Salvation for all through a crucified Christ" was the theme of all. And such preaching! Kingston people never suspected that these men could preach as they did. Something of the power that came to Peter at Pentecost must have rested on them. Each seemed to preach again.

And as a dying man to dying men.

The various committees must have been well chosen, for their work, although largely out of sight, was well done. What a band of workers were on hand from the various churches. And besides, the "people had a mind to work." Both in the meetings and outside, men and women were pleading with their neighbors to enter the Christian life.

And Tullar and Merdith surpassed the expectations of everyone. The singers were marshalled, twice as many as could be used, so that they were on duty alternate nights. Mr. Merdith's solos were effective, and Mr. Tullar in his exhortations and in leading the singers proved himself equal to any emergency. Sometimes his words provoked mirth, but usually they reached the depth of one's soul, and his pleadings were almost irresistible.

All spirit of criticism was hushed, and members of the churches realized as never before the truth of Christ's words, "One is your master even Christ, and all ye are brethren." Doubtless the cottage prayer meetings preceding the special services had much to do in creating this brotherly spirit.

As visible results, scores--perhaps ten score went forward to make a public confession of their faith in Christ, and church members have been greatly quickened and not a few converted who previously were Christian only in name. But this is not what we started to write. This is the revival itself. After the revival, what?

Still this spirit of unity continue to exist in the churches. Shall the same measure of the spirit rest upon the ministers? Shall the same zeal of the members of the church continue to win souls for Christ? Will the prayer meetings be crowded? Will the ministers realize that this is the time to get the young converts and the quickened membership of their churches to take part in the prayer meetings? Has the conscience of the church been quickened enough so that work for God will seem more important than worldly pleasures? Have they caught a vision of the "Son of Man" who spent his life in "doing good" rather than in the so-called pleasures of the world?

How would it look if the daily paper announced that Jesus, the carpenter of Nazareth, would be floor manager of a charity ball, and that at a "Five Hundred" party at Mary's home, the mother of Zebedee's children won the first prize and Mary Magdalene, the consolation prize, and that the leading members of the Synagogue attended the questionable shows at the theater?

Will it be after the revival just what it was before? Has the question in the catechism: "What is the chief end of man?" been rightly answered in every heart? "To glorify God and enjoy Him forever?"

Has the joy that has come to many who have helped friends to Christ taught them that true pleasures come only in service for the King? Has a taste of the "finest of the wheat" and "honey out of the rock" shown them that it is poor browsing on the devil's commons?

Have they learned the joy of introducing a soul to Christ? If they have, things that are purely worldly, will by no means satisfy now, and they will loathe this light bread, after feeding on "angel food."

Pentecost was but the beginning of the church. A greater revival came a few days later. So should it be in Kingston. Seeing now what we can do in His strength, we should "push the battle" to the very gates of sin.

How would it look if for each of these churches to organize a team of workers for their own church, and for neglected places in the city and outside?

How would it do for the strong business men of the city to organize and say to the mayor and the sheriff, we will back you up and, we want you to see that places of business are closed on Sunday and that every bar in the city is closed during prohibited hours, and we shall demand the reason why, if you do not do it as well as closing up places of corruption.

Has the revival strengthened weak backbones and feeble knees? Sometimes we need to fight. It was Christ, the Prince of Peace, who said, "He that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one."

"After the revival, what?" Each individual will have a share in answering the question.

Let us resolve that it shall mean a cleaner city, that the churches shall be alive and aggressive, that revival fires shall not die out, and that it may be said, "And the Lord added to the churches daily such as were being saved." ZEAL.

LEIBHARDT.

Leibhardt, Feb. 17--There was no church service on Sunday, on account of the storm.

Mrs. George Dumond of Kingston, is spending some time at her former home.

Mrs. J. C. Snyder enjoyed a sleigh ride Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Floyd Dewey, of Mettaca-honts, was a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Quick, on Tuesday.

P. Smith of Cherrytown, was on a business trip to this place Monday.

Mrs. Samuel Thompson was a guest of Mrs. Margaret Lawrence and Mrs. L. E. Lawrence, last Thursday.

A number from this place will attend the Washington Birthday Party at the M. E. Hall at Samsonville, Tuesday evening, February 22.

Elson Chrissy of Rochester Center is drawing timber and logs at Lawrence mill.

Mrs. Pernie Hornbeck and two daughters were week end guests at Mrs. Tina Gray.

Jerry Davis of Krumville is selling a large quantity of hay to Mrs. Agnes Brown.

Owing to the stormy weather, there was no social at the home of Mrs. J. C. Snyder last Saturday evening. Watch for a later date.

Mrs. Annie Hornbeck and daughter, Miss Hilda, pleasantly entertained at their home Wednesday Mrs. Arthur Davis of Whitfield, Mrs. Alexander Brown and little daughter, Miss Catherine. A nice visit was enjoyed by all the ladies.

Miss Louella Brown was in Kingston Monday.

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, Feb. 17--School opened on Monday morning after two weeks vacation.

Nelson Bell is expected to return home sometime this week.

A number in this place are sick with grip and colds, also one patient with typhoid.

The stork made a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gordons on Tuesday, February 8, also at George Winchell's, bringing with him Mrs. DuMont and Kenble. This family are very much in need.

There are five children, all small. The town is caring for them just at present. There is a home for those poor little children, and a place for the parents, as the people of this neighborhood are getting tired of helping them.

All are looking forward to the arrival of the new minister. Let us all turn over a new leaf and go to church. Give up the old habits and think of something good.

Oscar Crispell made a trip to Phenicia on Monday for a load of coal for Smith and Hesley.

A comedy, in three acts, entitled, "Daddy," will be given in the church on February 24. Look for hand bills.

Only One Little Cry.

My little daughter, having a little boy playmate who was scornful of anyone who cried, tried always to be as brave as he. One day she had taken a tumble and soiled her dress. When I asked her if it hurt her she said: "Yes, mamma, but I didn't cry. Just one little cry fell out, but I wiped it right off." Chicago Tribune.

Little Talks With

Want Ad Readers

Just at this time the railroads of the country, especially the New York Central, are experimenting with powdered fuel as motive power for their locomotives. There have been several patents for the burning of this sort of fuel registered and, of course, the process is as yet a secret, but the principal of this powdered fuel is well known.

The theory upon which the scientists are working is that powdered fuel is entirely consumed when burned in transmission, as is the case with locomotives now being experimented with, and the result is that there is no waste, no smoke and the full power contained in the coal is obtained.

If this process proves to be a success, it will mean that a great step forward has been taken in the science of railroading.

As in this experiment in railroading, so in the advertising world it has been found that while large display advertising is undoubtedly best for the big department store and mercantile house, it is too expensive to be practical for the needs of the average men and women in business or private life.

So those who are interested in the great scheme of newspaper advertising have devised, or invented, a sort of "powdered advertisement" called the Want Ad.

The Want Ad has been found most practical for the needs of home, office, factory and store in buying, selling, renting, exchanging and hiring and for very much the same reasons that the powdered coal will probably be found practical in running a locomotive.

The Want Ad is so small that it is burned in transmission--that is, it is quickly read by the searcher for one need or want or another. It does not require a long time to read over the Want Columns for they are conveniently classified and are easily seen and read at a glance. Then, too, since they take up such small space there is no waste, for they cost but a few pennies, and, lastly, they are all over the community.

As railroad men are trying out powdered fuel, it will pay you to try out "powdered advertising" in the shape of the Want Ad of the newspaper.

Lown of the town of Woodstock, a petition for a judicial settlement was filed and a citation issued returnable March 9. J. DePuy Hasbrouck appeared for the administrator.

Powley Estate Appraised.

County Treasurer Snyder, as appraiser under the taxable transfer act, has filed his report of appraisal of the estate of Joseph L. Powley of this city. The personal property amounts to $2,824.13; the real estate is valued at $5,550; the debts, commissions, expenses of administration, etc., amount to $4,563.16, leaving a net estate of $6,810.97, which is exempt from tax. Josephine A. Powley, the administratrix, was represented by Frederick Stephan, Jr.; Joseph H. Vanderlyn appeared for the state comptroller.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1509.—A Trim and Becoming Style.
—Junior Dress in Semi Princess Style, With Convertible Collar.

Plaid woolen in soft blue and brown tones would be nice for this, or shepherd check suiting with facings of white pique. For more dressy effect, one could choose poplin, taffeta or velveteen, with facings of silk or satin. Plaid silk with brown velvet, white satin with black taffeta, or messaline with poplin would all be equally attractive. The pattern is cut with panel fronts, that join full skirt and waist portions. The waist back has no lines. It has a deep tuck at the sides, and is stitched over the skirt below the belt. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. It requires 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for a 14 years size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up-to-date 1916 large Spring and Summer Catalogue, containing over 400 designs of Ladies' Misses' and Children's Patterns, as well as the latest Embroidery Designs, also a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, giving valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB. 17, 1916.

It was widely advertised that on Wednesday Secretary Lansing would be able to announce that the Lusitania negotiations with Germany had been brought to a satisfactory conclusion. Instead of that the Secretary stated that "the whole question of submarine warfare is again under consideration by our Government." This set-back is due to the uncertainty as to Germany's attitude, which cannot be explained by Ambassador Bernstorff himself. During the correspondence regarding the Lusitania and Arabic cases the German Government promised unequivocally to sink no more liners without warning, but has since announced that after March 1 all enemy ships which carry a gun will be destroyed. Since it is obviously impossible for a submarine commander to make sure of the existence of a defensive weapon on his prospective prey, it seems impossible to reconcile the two proclamations of policy. So far as international law is concerned, there is no question of the right of a merchant vessel to carry a gun in her stern, which is done purely for defensive purposes, since it is absurd to think of a vessel making an aggressive fight from its rear end, mule fashion. This has been the rule ever since the days of pirates. The Germans want to change this rule because a stern gun makes it dangerous for submarines to approach from behind, since they are unable to submerge themselves quickly enough to dodge a shot. The German efficiency which we have heard so much about ought to be able to make the submarines more spy. It is a safe prediction that Lansing and Bernstorff will keep up their futile conferences for the next year or so. After that nobody will care what either of them says.

It is that manifested by Jean Cronos, the chief charged with the attempted poisoning of nearly three hundred guests at the recent banquet to Archbishop Mundelein in Chicago. Not content with remaining in hiding, Cronos has written a letter to the New York Times giving the details of his death-dealing efforts which speaks volumes for the thoroughness of correspondence school chemistry, if not for its spelling. Such letters as these throw the authorities off the track quite as frequently as more familiar methods of evading the police. This same exaggerated ego was displayed by Ignatius T. Lincoln, the alleged spy whose telephone pranks with the newspapers brought so much disrepute to the Manhattan police. Cronos is up to the same tricks. It may be, however, that taught-by-mail chemistry does not give a course in crime and the habits of the police. Some one may yet "spill the beans" for Chief Cronos the same as some one watered the soup in Chicago and unconsciously saved the lives of the anarchist's intended victims.

It is announced that Administration bills providing for an enlargement of our army are nearly ready, but that the navy-building program will not be announced before May at the earliest. Of course, the introduction of bills as important as these are a mere beginning, to be followed by months of discussion. It looks as though another Presidential inauguration before anything is accomplished. Under the circumstances, perhaps, advocates of preparedness should be thankful that the subject is allowed to come up even for discussion, inasmuch as it was but little more than a year ago that the President referred to it in his address to Congress, "with a sneer." There is nothing for patriots to do about it, except to reflect upon the motto engraved on our coins, "In God We Trust." It has become evident to all who have eyes to see and ears to hear that great trouble is ahead of us unless we are prompt in strengthening our power. Only a few days ago it was stated in the United States Senate that Germany was trying to buy a canal zone through Nicaragua, and was outbidding our Government. That means a direct challenge to the Monroe doctrine. Of course, we are safe enough while the war lasts, but it may end as suddenly as it began, in which event any nation so disposed may reduce said doctrine to the status of "a scrap of paper." If this happens, the cost of re-establishing the principle will be twenty times more than the expenditure now advocated by the most enthusiastic apostle of preparedness.

Some genius has just figured up measurements or rather, measured up figures, which show that the Wellesley College girls in the aggregate are the superior to the Venus de Milo in waist measurements and other anatomical details of the feminine human form divine. This is most assuredly a harmless pursuit and it is interesting to know that the Wellesley girls' waist is the fraction of an inch smaller than the standard of pulchritude for which the Venus has stood these many years. But as a real test the length of the masculine arm is always supposed to most satisfactorily establish waist measurements, whether these be for college or factory girls. From a woman's college, it might not be unwarranted to expect comparisons along other lines, say with Minerva perhaps as the standard for measurements. Yet wisdom never did appeal to the popular mind as that mind is viewed by the publicity agent. So it is best to let the college girls' measurements get by without investigation—for one probably would not be permitted anyhow.

CAPABLANCA WILL NOT REPLY.

Marshall, U. S. Chess Champion, Would Contest Pan-American Title.

Considerable interest is created in chess circles by the challenge sent by P. J. Marshall, United States chess champion, to Jose R. Capablanca, the chess champion of Cuba, who is also known as the Pan-American champion since his defeat of Mr. Marshall in 1909. Mr. Marshall is scheduled to play an exhibition game of chess on Friday, March 3, at the Kingston Club. In his challenge to Capablanca, Mr. Marshall suggests that they agree on the cash prize and play one-half in Cuba under the usual international rules. Because the challenge read "to decide the title of Pan-American champion," Capablanca refused to reply to it, saying that he was not obliged to play to decide a question already settled. If Mr. Marshall challenges him as the Pan-American champion, it would be another matter, he said. He would then be willing to play under the world champion rules as adopted in St. Petersburg in 1914.

PATAUKUNK.

Pataukunk, Feb. 17.—The many friends of Chancellor Quick of Lehigh were greatly shocked Monday morning when they heard of his sudden death. Mr. Quick had a great many friends for wherever he went he became fast friends with all he met. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Mr. Quick had a pleasant smile and a cherry greeting for everyone. We all extend our heartfelt sympathy to those in bereavement of their dear one.

Miss Bessie D. Christian of Kingston visited her mother, Mrs. Joseph Christian, Sunday. Dr. Kirchhoff from the city spent the week end with his family at "Chaceon Villa."

Mrs. Maude Gray and brother, Oliver, of Palenstown visited at Jerry Simpson's Saturday, Sunday and Monday. A jolly load of young people of this place attended a surprise party at the home of Alfred Markle of Mombacrus Friday evening. They returned home in the wee small hours of the morning, reporting a fine time.

Miss Della Osterhout entertained a number of callers Friday evening. Miss Sadie Simpson delightfully entertained her friend, Miss Lella Burger, of Cliftondale, Saturday and Sunday. Miss Burger was formerly a resident of this place.

QUARRYVILLE.

Quarryville, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Ford Hummel of Kingston spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Van Steenburgh.

Charles D. Snyder of Madalin spent Tuesday at Arthur M. Lee's. Frank Schoonmaker and family of West Saugerties spent a few days last week at Joshua Post's.

Mrs. Myron Fiero is able to be out again after the grip. Monday and Tuesday mornings were the coldest of the year so far. Old Jack Frost stole into most every house and left his mark.

Next Sunday the rite of baptism and reception of members will be observed at the M. E. Church.

The revival services at the M. E. Church were brought to a close last Friday night after six weeks of successful meetings. About 40 converts have been the result.

Owing to the storm there was no service at the churches Sunday.

George Richtmyer and wife of Schenectady spent last week with Mrs. Kate Taylor and family.

St. James's Missionary Society.

On account of the Missionary Society of the First Reformed Church meeting on Friday afternoon, February 25, the Missionary Society of St. James's M. E. Church will meet Friday of this week with Mrs. Richard Bell on Pearl street. Mrs. Barakewath will have charge of the devotional services, assisted by Mrs. Louis Easten. Mite boxes should be brought in at this meeting as they are to be opened at this date.

Catskill's Centennial.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Your name, please, Miss." "Iona Carr." "Oh, do you? What make?" —Boston Transcript.

"I notice you are partial to college graduates." "Yes, they make good workers. They're always thankful to get a job." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Fatty Mack eats like a bird." "Like a bird? Why, he shovels in his food like an elephant." "Just what a said. Takes a peck at every mouthful." —Baltimore American.

On the Links—Duffer (in difficulties)—"What do you do when you get in a place like this?" Scotch Friend—"Swear like the devil, I'm verro sorry to say." —Boston Transcript.

"I see the Russians have been compelled to give up Przemysl." "Well, if they're goin' in for temperance, they may as well give up Przemysl, vodka and all their drinks." —Buffalo Express.

"Do you always say what you think in your speeches?" "No," answered Senator Guff. "I find it safer to say what I think my constituents want me to say, and in such a way that it is subject to at least two interpretations." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

"What do you think of my graduation essay?" asked the young man. "Fine!" replied the father. "Only I'm afraid a lot of people are going to be bashful about offering plain wages to a man whose intellect is so much above the average." —Washington Star.

Adam's Distinction.

Pat, who had been summoned for beating his wife, did all he knew to put the blame onto his mother-in-law, and, in consequence, was chided by the court for his lack of gallantry.

"Why people should think it clever and right to malign their mothers-in-law I don't know," remarked the magistrate. "I chivalry quite dead among us." "I could," he added, tell you of men who never once said an unkind word to their mothers-in-law, who never had the bad taste to complain about their mothers-in-law's actions, who never—" "I only know of one, your honor," interrupted Pat.

The magistrate scowled. "And if you want to know his name, your honor," went on Pat, "it's Adam." —New York Times.

Told His Wife.

A local preacher, who was in the habit of taking his wife with him to his preaching appointments, said on arrival at the chapel, "My dear, you go in there and will be all right. I must go round to the vestry." In the vestibule the wife was met by a kind-hearted steward, who, after giving her a hearty welcome and a hymn book, conducted her to a comfortable seat. At the close of the service the same kind-hearted steward gave her a hearty shake of the hand, adding how pleased he would be to see her at the services each Sunday.

Then, whispering, he said: "But, my dear, you won't get a dollar like this in the pulpit every Sunday." —Philadelphia Public Ledger.

E'sprit d'Appros.

Richard M. Gibbs, the young socialist writer, being strong for the allies, often attends German-American meetings as a heckler.

At a recent German-American meeting in St. Louis a speaker referred to the Fatherland's food shortage.

"But the government is doing all in her power to protect the people," he said. "There has now been set up a commission to control the consumption of cheese."

"The Watch on the Rhine, eh?" shouted Mr. Gibbs from the gallery. "Yet the government, for all its care, finds it more and more difficult to appease the hungry people," the speaker went on. "In their hunger the people are getting out of hand. What is to be done with them?"

"Put a bit in their mouths," shouted Mr. Gibbs—Washington Star.

A Surprise.

E. Berry Wall, apropos of a notorious divorce, said, in New York: "The morals of our upper ten!"

"The morals of the people who occupy the horseshoe tier at the opera!"

"Two chorus girls were talking behind the scenes at the opera one evening."

"Oh," said the first, with a shocked air—"oh, look who Mr. Van Astorbill has got in his box with him!"

"The other girl looked, and her astonishment was also marked."

"Goodness gracious!" she said, "if it isn't his wife." —New York Telegraph.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

February 17, 1896.—Ponchockie public library incorporated with D. B. Abbey as president.

SPRING ADV. WRITING.

REACHING out for Spring trade is now the order among the merchants. Let me show you that newspaper readers always read the unusual in advertising. A little clever ingenuity in display, combined with a carefully selected appeal to the eye and mind, can be made to reach the eye and hold the attention of many readers who might not be otherwise interested. Why not give my advertising a trial? George M. Zellmer, care of Kingston Freeman.

No Coat Needed.

Billy, four, and his mother called to see a new baby at a hospital. His mother suggested to her friend that the baby might have Billy's coat to wear home. Billy protested vigorously. "Why, Billy," said his mother, "the poor baby will have to stay here; she will have no coat to wear home if you don't lend her yours." Billy replied: "Well, she came without a coat, didn't she?"

GUADAGANOLO HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

Charles Guadagnolo, who shot and killed William Baxter, or Charles Baxter, at his saloon near the Saugerties railroad depot Monday night, was held to await the action of the grand jury at the close of a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace William Chidester at Saugerties Tuesday afternoon, but immediately after his return to Kingston he sought to be released on bail. The application for bail was opposed by District Attorney Traver and was denied by Judge Jenkins, but Guadagnolo's attorneys expect to renew the application later.

Dead Man's Last Nickel.

Investigation has shown that Baxter, who was killed, was at times a professional tramp who eked out the precarious livelihood of that fraternity by selling shoe strings when occasion demanded, and at other times doing occasional odd jobs. When he entered Guadagnolo's saloon Monday night, he probably did not have much money about him—five cents was all the money that was found in his clothing by Coroner Ernest A. Kelly.

Baxter was sitting at a table at the farther end of the room when Michael Passero and Patry Baron, both of whom live at Glasco, entered the saloon with an Italian friend from Rochester, N. Y., who had been visiting them and was then on his way home. The north-bound train was late and the trio walked up the path from the Saugerties station to the Guadagnolo's saloon, which is situated part way up the hill directly in the rear of the depot.

Did Baxter Butt In?

When the trio entered the bar room, Baxter was fondling a dog belonging to Guadagnolo and the young Italian proprietor was standing behind the bar. They were being served with drinks and cigars when Baxter arose from the table at which he had been sitting and walked to the bar, where he ordered a glass of beer.

The beer served to Baxter was put out by Guadagnolo in the kind of glass known as a "schooner," which is in the shape of an inverted pyramid and is built for rough usage. The glass itself is thick and heavy. Baxter stood several feet from the newcomers when they saw him, he threw his glass, which was empty, at Guadagnolo.

All Over In One Minute.

When Guadagnolo found himself covered with blood, he turned to the back-bar, and opening one of the drawers in it, drew out a revolver which he pointed at Baxter and fired. Baxter dropped where he had been standing.

The entire occurrence, from the throwing of the glass by Baxter to the shooting by Guadagnolo, was agreed by both the Glasco witnesses, occupied one minute.

The bullet entered Baxter's skull slightly above and to the rear of the right ear, and after plunging its way through the brain lodged against another part of the skull. Part of the brain oozed out of the hole made by the entrance of the bullet. Baxter lost consciousness the instant he was struck by the bullet and remained in an unconscious condition until his death, which occurred at one o'clock Wednesday morning.

Guadagnolo Wants Freedom.

The warrant issued for Guadagnolo was for assault in the first degree, and although a more serious charge could have been made after his victim died, he was arraigned before Justice Chidester on that charge and that is the charge on which he was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury. Immediately after his return to jail his counsel, Andrew J. Cook, and City Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr., applied to Judge Jenkins to have him admitted to bail. The application was opposed by District Attorney Traver, and was denied by the judge. His counsel expect to renew the application in the usual way later at special term of the supreme court.

Guadagnolo has been visited at the jail by a number of young Italians, and a large number also were at Saugerties on Wednesday when the hearing took place before Justice Chidester.

Trying to Locate Relatives.

District Attorney Traver has communicated with the police of Newark, N. J., where Baxter made his home and has requested them to ascertain, if possible, whether Baxter has any relatives living there. An autopsy was performed Wednesday afternoon by Dr. A. A. Stern of this city and Dr. B. W. Gifford of Saugerties at the morgue of Coroner Ernest A. Kelly, who will hold the body pending receipt of instructions as to its disposition from Baxter's relatives, if they can be found.

WISCONSIN WANTS NAPANOCH CONVICT

Under Sheriff Robert Every today brought Anthony Fenninger, alias John Ottu, an inmate of the Napanoch Reformatory, to the county jail in execution of orders from Governor Whitman to the effect that he transfer the man to a sheriff of the state of Wisconsin, who had traveled east to get Fenninger, a fugitive from justice, charge of obtaining money, under false pretenses being held against him in that state.

Fenninger, who today finished his term in the Napanoch Reformatory, is charged with selling a Packard car which was not his in the city of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, on September 8, 1914, and has been a fugitive from justice since. It is charged that he received the sum of $500 for the car and made his exit, later coming to New York state, where some violation of the law lodged him in the reformatory. The Wisconsin authorities in that way got trace of the missing man and sent an agent for his capture upon the completion of his term in the institution. The agent is now in town awaiting the hearing to be given the man this afternoon at the court house before Judge Jenkins.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Andy Hummel of Elmendorf street has returned home, after spending a few days in New York city.

Mrs. Edwin N. Gage, of 84 Clifton avenue, who has been sick for the past five weeks, is improving nicely.

Miss Lottie Hutter of No. 21 Rogers street, attending junior week at Columbia University in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gale and Miss Abbie Pallas of Tannersville are visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Wood at their home on Broadway.

Ernest Osterhoudt, machinist in the Ulster & Delaware railroad shop, has accepted a position in the Overland automobile works of Toledo, Ohio.

Harrison Terwilliger, a graduate of Spencer's Business School, has obtained a first class position as stenographer with the Ulster Lumber Company, Livingston Manor, N. Y.

Mrs. Lewis Nell, who has been spending four months at the home of her friends, Mrs. J. J. Kelder and Mrs. Ploessie Barry, of 85 West Hing street, has returned home in Elsie, Mich. It is twenty-seven years ago she was in Kingston and forty-five years ago she went to Michigan to live.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Alice, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fomire of Main street, Saugerties, died on Wednesday morning, aged six months. The funeral was held this afternoon, with interment in Mountain View cemetery.

Mrs. Louisa Studt died at her home, 72 Moore street, this morning at the age of 38 years. She is survived by her husband and two children, one sister, Mrs. Charles Heppner, and two brothers, Fred Hoetger and Charles Hoetger. Funeral will be held from her late home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and from the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church at 2:30. Interment will be in Montrose cemetery.

Peter S. Roosa died at his home in Kripplush on Sunday afternoon, after a brief illness of typhoid fever. Mr. Roosa was a much respected and highly esteemed resident who was a friend of everybody and an enemy of none. He will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends and relatives who deeply mourn his early departure. Mr. Roosa was a son of the late Jacob D. Roosa and Margaret Streets, having been born in Kripplush 45 years ago, and has resided there all of his life.

He married Lottie Smith, daughter of the late James H. Smith, and has five children, all of whom are at home excepting Ethel, wife of Fred Harley who lives at Lyonsville. Mr. Roosa, besides being survived by his wife and five children, is also survived by his aged mother, a twin brother, Supervisor George C. Roosa, of Kripplush, Anna of Rifton, and Grace, wife of Ellsworth Davis, who lives at Lyonsville. Socially, Mr. Roosa was a member and Past Councilor of a Kripplush chapter, No. 39, Jr. O. U. M. and Rondon Valley Lodge, K. of P. of Alligerville. His funeral was held in the Kripplush M. E. Church Thursday, at 1 o'clock. Interment in Fairview cemetery at Pine Bush.

Hoehling Discharged.

The adjourned case of William Hoehling charged with non-support came up today before Recorder Lang. The wife failed to appear to press her charge and Hoehling was discharged. It is understood that the couple have agreed to try life together anew.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 17.—There was a supply of stocks at concessions in the first few minutes on the stock exchange this morning, making the tone apparently weak for a time but a good demand appeared and rallies were quickly in order. Mexican Petroleum fell a point to 106 1/2, and although it improved 1/2, the offerings were not checked. Crucible Steel yielded a point at the start to 79 1/2 and then moved up to 81 1/2. Anaconda, after dropping 1/2 to 88 1/2, rose to 89 1/2. Steel Common started 1/4 lower at 82 1/2 and there were fractional declines at the outset in Union Pacific, Erie and American Smelting. Tenn. Copper lacked support, showing a decline of 1 1/2 with sales at 57 1/2. Shattuck Arizona opened 1/4 lower at 36 1/2. New York Air Brake receded 2 points to 146.

A stronger tone developed in the late forenoon and many issues made substantial gains. Mexican Petroleum rose from 105 to 107, Texas Company from 206 to 209, Crucible Steel from 79 1/2 to 82 1/2, and Industrial Alcohol advanced to 155, a gain of 2 points so far for the day. Utah Copper advanced 1/2 to 83 1/2. Marine preferred 3/4 to 68 and Shattuck Arizona rose from 36 1/2 to 37 1/2. Canadian Pacific was in good demand, rising 1 1/2 to 168 and many of the other railroad issues sold fractionally above yesterday's close. American Beet Sugar, however, was in free supply, falling from 70 1/2 to 69 1/2 and a loss of 2 points was sustained in Pressed Steel Car, which sold at 56. Money, 1 1/2 per cent.

The Zinc issues were prominent in the late afternoon, Butte and Superior rising over 5 points to 91 1/2 and American Zinc a point to above 78, new high records for both issues.

Studebaker under small sales declined 2 points to 149 and Marine declined 1 point to 70 1/2. Price movements in the rest of the list were narrow and trading was almost wholly professional.

The market closed dull. Zinc stocks were the feature of the last hour, Butte and Superior crossing 91 and American Zinc, 78. Changes in the general list were trifling. Government bonds unchanged; others firm.

SLEIGHRIDE AND CARD PARTY.

By Woman's Guild of Church of the Holy Spirit.

On Tuesday evening, February 22, at 7 o'clock, the inhabitants of Sleightsburgh and Port Ewen will be surprised to hear the chorus:

"Jingle bells, jingle bells, Jingle all the way—"

rendered by the Woman's Guild of the Church of the Holy Spirit, and their friends, while enroute to Wayburn farm—the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hathaway, Port Ewen, where their ride will terminate. Then the second half of the program will have full sway—which will include card party, musical and splendid refreshments. The entire home of the Hathaways will be available that evening, so there will be no crowding, but as the seating capacity of the dining room is limited, it is advisable to secure tickets early. The Woman's Guild earnestly solicits the attendance of every person interested in the work of the Church of the Holy Spirit. They promise a fine luncheon, an interesting program and a grand social time.

MARBLETOWN.

Marbletown, Feb. 17.—Cortland Hicks spent the past week end with his sister, Mrs. Scott Sheeley.

The social held Wednesday night at the home of Jacob I. Markle was well attended by people from Blinewater, Cottekill, Hurley, Lomontville and Stone Ridge. All report a fine time and look forward to the time when another social will be given.

Mrs. Jesse DuBois entertained company on Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Henry Kennel entertained company this past week.

Although the ice in the creek is poor, some of our young people have been trying it with their skates.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Feb. 17.—Tom Jones either was misquoted, or he is trying to kid the merry villagers when he said that "Jess Willard will weigh 240 pounds when he fights Frank Moran on March 8."

We'll wager a box of stogies with Tomaso—or anyone else—that Willard will weigh closer to 265 or 270 pounds when he fights Moran than he will to 240.

Willard's in-the-ring weight for his fight with Jack Johnson was exactly 247 pounds. The big Kansan, you must remember, was trained down to bone and muscle for that fracas. He was down to a weight as low as he could go—and still retain his strength. And Willard reached that reduced condition only after months of constant training.

In the face of this, Jones would have the populace believe that in less than a month's time Willard can get down to a lower weight than he carried in his Johnson fight. When Willard started actual training for the battle with the negro, he weighed around 270, yet it took him nearly two months to trim down to 247.

From what we hear, Willard right now weighs somewhere in the neighborhood of 310 pounds. That bulk is due to the fact that he hasn't done any hard training since he left Havana. If the 310 pound figure is correct, then it's a fairly safe gamble that Willard will beam around 265 or 270—at the lowest—when he meets Moran.

Those Havana Weights.

The "official"—but untrue—weights for that Johnson-Willard battle were: Willard, 238; Johnson, 227. The actual weights were: Willard, 247; Johnson, 225.

After the men had weighed in the ring, Ben Rosenthal, who did the weighing, announced the real weights to the newspaper men—247 and 225. But Jack Curley immediately requested the newspaper men to make the weights 238 and 227, despite Rosenthal's protests.

The reason? Well, the exact weights showed Willard outweighed Johnson 22 pounds; the fake weights showed only an 11 pound advantage for the white man. Just what was gained by attempting to disguise the actual weights never has been made clear to us, but Curley probably didn't want it known broadcast that Willard had such a big advantage in bulk.

Moran in Shape Now.

Frank Moran is in condition right now to jump into the ring and battle for the championship. The blond Pittsburgher has kept in shape all winter and at this moment is only a few pounds above fighting bulk. He could rid himself of those in a couple of days of strenuous training.

Moran probably will enter the ring weighing around 265. That will give Willard an advantage of from 50 to 65 pounds in bulk, as well as nearly six inches in height and many inches in reach.

While Moran is up in the wilds of New York state, developing his wind and stamina with outdoor work in the mountains, Willard is reducing via the gymnasium route. Willard aims to take off the largest portion of the fat indoors, doing road work mostly for the purpose of getting back his wind.

Moran won't do a lot of boxing in preparation for this bout. He feels that he doesn't need it because he has been boxing almost constantly during the past few months. But when he does take it up, he's going to get for himself a sparring partner built along the lines of Willard—a la Woolworth building.

Moran aims to try out his body punches and swings for the jaw on the giant and after experimenting with the Willard battle—whether it will be an unvarying attack on the body or a mixture of tries for the head and body.

Willard is working along the same lines. His corps of sparring will be about the size of Moran, and he will develop an attack—and a defense—designed to halt his small rival.

No. 6 Defeats High School.

The girls' basketball team of School No. 6 outclassed a team of girls from the sophomore class of the high school yesterday afternoon by the score of 26 to 14. Both teams shot with a high degree of accuracy considering the age of the players. The No. 6 team was composed of Leona Christiansa, Mildred Steward, Hester Van Aken, Ruth Lina, Helen Dederick and Glenn Guinick, with Margaret Hasbrouck, Muriel Cue and Catherine Fritz as substitutes. The sophomore five was composed of Anna Hurley, Elsie Philpott, Margaret Meeker, Ida Lasher and Gertrude Revy. Miss Ruth Smith, a Kingston Academy graduate and former basketball player of that school, officiated.

Local Scenes in Movies.

ARETAS PLAYERS MAKING PROGRESS

From the outcome of the games played on Wednesday evening in the big pinochle tournament being held by the three local Odd Fellow lodges it is evident that Captain Bush's study of the rules and the secret practice work and signals which he has drilled in his fellow players has been of some use as Aretas Lodge won three games from Kosciusko Lodge, which is leading the league at the present time. Aretas also won one game from C. S. Clay Lodge. Captain Whitbeck of Kosciusko, however, is not discouraged by the showing made by his team and said that errors will sometimes be made but that his team of huskies were still leading in the pennant race and the other Odd Fellows had better watch out and not become too confident for he fully expected to see Kosciusko retain the lead. The Aretas Lodge rooms were packed to the doors by the members of the three lodges who cheered for their teams. This morning the drug stores about town were kept busy supplying the demand for medicine to cure sore throats. As Captain Bush said, however, it takes more than cheering to win a pinochle contest.

The standing of the teams to date follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Kosciusko Lodge	19	11
C. S. Clay Lodge	15	15
Aretas Lodge	14	18

FIELD OF SPORTS.

Notes of Baseball, Pugilism and Other Lines of Athletics.

By Telegram to The Freeman
Chicago, Feb. 17.—As soon as he is able to travel Jess Willard will leave for New York to get in shape for his match with Frank Moran, which has been set for March 25. The champion was reported gradually improving today, and it was believed that his severe cold would not keep him confined to his home many more days.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 17.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, had things all his own way in his ten round affair with Johnny Crecely of Cincinnati last night. The champion hit Crecely wherever and whenever he desired and administered severe punishment to the Cincinnati lad all through the final round.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 17.—His body frozen stiff, Thomas Seymour, 45, one time national league star, was found dead near Cascade, in Long Valley. He had gone into the mountains several days ago to look after some mining property he owned near Cascade.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—A new world's record for plunging the length of a 60 foot tank was held today by J. P. Lechter, of the Chicago Athletic Club. Lechter plunged the distance in 15 seconds. The former record of 19.15 seconds was held by Craig Redmond of Chicago.

New York, Feb. 17.—Setting new swimming marks seems to be Herbert Vollmer's long suit. Three new world records were made by the Columbia University swimmer last night. The new figures are 2:34.45 for the 220 yards, 3:55 of a second better than the old mark. The same mark applies to the 200 metres, the officials accepting the figures for that distance. The mark for 200 yards was 2:10.45, 2.5 of a second better than the figures set up by the Australian, Healy. The latter mark has never received official sanction, but it was the fastest ever made in a 25 yard tank.

New York, Feb. 17.—Sam Murbarger, manager for Jack Dillon, today offered to bet $10,000 at even money that his man could knock out Frank Moran in ten rounds. Murbarger made the offer at the same time that he hurled a challenge at Moran to meet Dillon here on March 8, the original date for the Moran-Willard bout. "If Dillon can't stop Moran in ten rounds I don't want a cent for Dillon's services," declared Murbarger.

Back to Albany.

Mrs. Margaret Brice of Cedar street was arrested on Wednesday night by Policeman Fout on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. This morning when she was arraigned before Recorder Lang it was brought out that she had been released in December from St. Ann's Home at Albany where she had been sentenced for six months by Judge Jenkins in county court. She is a woman who seems to be unable to keep away from the temptation of the flowing bowl and the recorder re-committed her to the home at Albany for a term of six months.

Muggy is in Jail.

Frank Carle, better known as "Muggy" of No. 79 Greenkill avenue, was arrested on Wednesday night for being drunk and disorderly and using profane language around the West Shore station. This morning Muggy said that he had no recollection of creating a disturbance which was evidently a sure indication that he must have been carrying a good sized cargo of joy water. Recorder Lang imposed a sentence of $5 or five days at the county hotel.

Curtlett Making a Record.

Sam Curtlett, well known to the basketball fans of this city as one of the most popular members of the old Company M team, is winning honors in the State League in Pennsylvania, where he is playing with the Wilkes-Barre team. Sam leads the league with a margin of 57 points over his nearest rival. He has secured 422 points so far during the league season.

Sixty Days for Larceny.

John Davis of the town of Marlborough was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail Wednesday by Justice Northrip on a charge of petit larceny.

HOLY CROSS BEATS PEERLESS FIVE

The Peerless Five took a whack at the Holy Cross team last night and endeavored to break the winning streak held by the Pine Grove avenue representatives, but were given a big surprise, as things did not turn out that way and were forced to content themselves with the short end of a 29-15 score.

The game was fast and the liveliest ever played in this hall and another record-breaking crowd attended.

The Peerless with the aid of Dittus, the star forward of the Crescents, were on the job early but the game was somewhat delayed as Morham, of the Holy Cross team, was absent. Joyce, of the high school team and a former member of the Holy Cross, donned a uniform and the game was put on its way.

Accurate passwork enabled the Holy Cross to roll up a large score from the very start. Soper getting three finds in succession. Sills also had his shooting eye with him and held Dittus to a standstill. Rourke was as usual here, there and everywhere. For Joyce, it can be said much credit is due to this clever high school athlete. He played a wonderful game throughout. Butler's guarding and blocking was a feature.

Cism played a good game for the Peerless, as did Dittus, Dolson and Johnson. The latter made two wonderful shots of different styles. Hartman also played a hard game.

After the game dancing was enjoyed as usual.

WORTHINGTON OUT TO BEAT BERRY.

When J. Howard Berry of the University of Pennsylvania essays to grab the pentathlon honors at the big relay games at Philadelphia for the second time in April he will again find a worthy rival in the person of Harry Worthington, the great all-round athlete from Dartmouth College. That Worthington is going to be in phenomenal shape this spring was demonstrated at Buffalo February 12, when running the second relay for Dartmouth against the Seventy-fourth Regiment team, he flashed 220 yards in the great time of 22.25 seconds. This performance was done with a "relay start," which is all to the runner's advantage. On the other hand, it was done on an eight-lap track and in flat shoes. It is hardly necessary to explain either that the Seventy-fourth Regiment track is the fastest indoor running oval in the world. The Dartmouth team beat the Buffalo soldiers by about thirty yards; Trenhold (220 yards) Worthington, (220 yards), Lacey, (440 yards), and Riley, (440 yards) running in that order.

FLATBUSH.

Flatbush, Feb. 17.—Clarence Davis purchased a team of fine work horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osterhoudt spent the week end in Kingston.

Miss Mary Burhans of Kingston has been staying at the home of her brother, John Burhans, caring for the sick.

Alvin Kieffer is spending a few days in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Osterhoudt spent the week end in Kingston.

There will be preaching services as usual Sunday by the Rev. H. I. Hoag, of Sayreville.

Miss Rachel and Howard Osterhoudt have returned from New York, bringing grip colds with them.

Mrs. Benjamin Osterhoudt is quite ill again.

John W. Burhans, a life long resident, died at his home Tuesday morning after a short illness of pneumonia. He leaves a wife and daughter, both ill now of grip.

Mrs. Burhans was a kind neighbor, always ready and willing to do a kind deed. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Funeral services will be held from the home of his sister, Miss Mary Burhans, Kingston, on Thursday. Interment in Wiltwyck Cemetery. The family have the sympathy of their many friends.

Mrs. Harold Osterhoudt is visiting friends in Poughkeepsie.

Hereditarily.

Dance at St. Remy.

Friday evening Pokonoie Tribe, No. 344, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold their first of a series of leap year dances in their hall at St. Remy, Past District Deputy Burton G. Shults of Pokonoie Tribe, chairman of the committee in charge, assures every one who attends that it will be an evening well spent. There will be plenty of shed room for those who come in sleighs. Music will be furnished by an orchestra and refreshments will be served during the evening for a small sum. Red Men from Kingston, Esopus and Saugerties will be present to help make the evening merry.

Dance at Glasco.

A benefit dance will be held in Firemen's Hall at Glasco on Friday night. Prizes will be given and good music will be in attendance. Automobiles will leave the central post office at 8 o'clock.

Same Trouble Here.

Newburgh and Poughkeepsie residents are complaining of the mail services between the two cities. They claim a letter mailed before 10 o'clock in the evening does not reach the other city until next day at noon, first going to New York. While a letter mailed after 10 o'clock is sent over the river and arrives at the destination in the morning. The same trouble also exists between Newburgh and Beacon.

A Simultaneous Disappearance.

A young man who had been shoveling walks and doing odd jobs about the boarding house of Mrs. Crump in Poughkeepsie disappeared and at the same time two gold watches and a small sum of money also disappeared. The young man was about 18 years old and had been about town for several days.

LADLETON.

Ladleton, Feb. 17.—Another snow storm visited this place on Saturday night, and Sunday about eight inches of snow fell on the level.

Whooping cough is the order of the day here.

Orval Crawford of Winnsboro is in this place visiting friends and relatives for a few days.

All were saddened to hear of the death of Fred Crawford at New Brunswick, N. J. He leaves many friends and relatives in this place.

Mrs. John Dulaff spent Friday with Mrs. Frank Dulaff.

Sherman Anderson is drawing logs from Mr. Otto's place in Bel Hill.

On Tuesday Sheridan Satterlee of Frost Valley was brought before Justice of the Peace David Hall at Claryville and fined $20. A few days before Mr. Satterlee struck Mrs. Rachel Kane in the face. She was wearing glasses, and it cut her face some.

AFTER THE REVIVAL, WHAT?

The striking title of the sermon in one of our city churches last Sunday was the above. How it was handled, we do not know, but we doubt not that it was with the characteristic force and energy of the able pastor. But whatever he said was from the viewpoint of the pulpit. Possibly it may look differently from the pew.

Let us see.
Great, and, to many, surprising things have taken place in the upper part of the city during the past month. A great church has been thronged, no matter what the weather might be, by an enthusiastic audience. No one ever suspected that so many people could crowd into St. James' Church. The last night it was estimated that three thousand were present.

Five preachers presented the gospel, and a stranger would have been unable to pick out Baptist, Reformed, or Methodist. Infant baptism, nor immersion, nor the divine decrees were not mentioned, but "Salvation for all through a crucified Christ" was the theme of all. And such preaching! Kingston people never suspected that those men could preach as they did. Something of the power that came to Peter at Pentecost must have rested on them. Each seemed to preach again.

And as a dying man to dying men.

The various committees must have been well chosen, for their work, although largely out of sight, was well done. What a band of workers were on hand from the various churches. And besides, the "people had a mind to work." Both in the meetings and outside, men and women were pleading with their neighbors to enter the Christian life.

And Tullar and Meredith surpassed the expectations of everyone. The singers were marshalled twice as many as could be used, so that they were on duty alternate nights. Mr. Meredith's solos were effective, and Mr. Tullar in his exhortations and in leading the singers proved himself equal to any emergency. Sometimes his words provoked mirth, but usually they reached the depth of one's soul, and his pleadings were almost irresistible.

All spirit of criticism was hushed, and members of the churches realized as never before the truth of Christ's words, "One is your master even Christ, and all ye are brethren." Doubtless the cottage prayer meetings, preceding the special services had much to do in creating this brotherly spirit.

Visible results scores—perhaps ten score went forward to make a public confession of their faith in Christ, and church members have been greatly quickened and not a few converted who previously were Christian only in name. But this is not what we started to write. This is the revival itself. After the revival, what?

Shall this spirit of unity continue to exist in the churches? Shall the same measure of the spirit rest upon the ministers? Shall the same zeal of the members of the church continue to win souls for Christ? Will the prayer meetings be crowded? Will the ministers realize that this is the time to set the young converts and the quickened membership of their churches to take part in the prayer meetings? Has the conscience of the church been quickened enough so that work for God will seem more important than worldly pleasures? Have they caught a vision of the "Son of Man" who spent his life in "doing good" rather than in the so-called pleasures of the world?

How would it look if the daily paper announced that Jesus, the carpenter of Nazareth, would be floor manager of a charity ball, and that at a "Five Hundred" party at Mary's home the mother of Zebedee's children won the first prize and Mary Magdalene, the consolation prize, and that the leading members of the Synagogue attended the questionable shows at the theater?

Will it be after the revival just what it was before? Has the question in the catechism, "What is the chief end of man?" been rightly answered in our hearts? "To glorify God and enjoy Him forever?"

Has the joy that has come to many who have helped friends to Christ taught them that true pleasure comes only in service for the King? Has a taste of the "finest of the wheat" and "honey out of the rock" shown them that it is poor brownness on the devil's commons?

Have they learned the joy of introducing a soul to Christ? If they have, things that are purely worldly, will by no means satisfy now, and they will loathe this light bread, after feeding on "angel food."

Pentecost was but the beginning of the church. A greater revival came a few days later. So should it be in Kingston. Seeing now what we can do in his strength, we should "push the battle" to the very gates of sin.

How would it do for the strong business men of the city to organize and say to the mayor and the sheriff, we will back you up, and we want you to see that places of business are closed on Sunday and that every bar in the city is closed during prohibited hours, and we shall demand the reason why, if you do not do it as well as closing up places of corruption.

Has the revival strengthened weak back bones and feeble knees? Sometimes we need to fight. It was Christ, the Prince of Peace, who said, "He that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one."

"After the revival, what?" Each individual will have a share in answering the question.
Let us resolve that it shall mean a cleaner city, that the churches shall be alive and aggressive, that revival fires shall not die out, and that it may be said, "And the Lord added to the churches daily such as were being saved." ZEAL.

LEIBHARDT.

Leibhardt, Feb. 17.—There was no church service on Sunday, on account of the storm.

Mrs. George Diamond of Kingston, is spending some time at her former home.

Mr. J. C. Snyder enjoyed a sleigh ride Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Floyd Depew, of Mettaca-honts, was a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Quick, on Tuesday.

F. Smith of Cherrytown, was on a business trip to this place Monday.

Mrs. Samuel Thompson was a guest of Mrs. Margaret Lawrence and Mrs. L. E. Lawrence, last Thursday.

A number from this place will attend the Washington Birthday Party at the M. E. Hall at Sonsonville, Tuesday evening, February 22.

Elson Chivvy of Rochester Center is drawing timber and logs at Lawrence mill.

Mrs. Pernie Hornbeck and two daughters were week end guests at Mrs. Tina Gray.

Jerry Davis of Krumville is selling a large quantity of hay to Mrs. Agnes Brown.

Owing to the stormy weather, there was no social at the home of Mrs. J. C. Snyder last Saturday evening. Watch for a later date.

Mrs. Annie Hornbeck and daughter, Miss Hilda, pleasantly entertained at their home Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur Davis of Whitefield, Mrs. Alexander Brown and little daughter, Miss Catherine, a nice visit was enjoyed by all the ladies.

Miss Louella Brown was in Kingston Monday.

WEST SHOKAN
West Shokan, Feb. 17.—School opened on Monday morning after two weeks vacation.

Nelson Bell is expected to return home sometime this week.

A number in this place are sick with grip and colds, also one patient with typhoid.

The stork made a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gordon on Tuesday, February 8, also at George Winchell's, bringing with him Mrs. DuMont and Kemble. This family are very much in need.

There are five children, all small. The town is caring for them just at present. There is a home for those poor little children, and a place for the parents, as the people of this neighborhood are getting tired of helping them.

All are looking forward to the arrival of the new minister. Let us all turn over a new leaf and go to church. Give up the old haunts and think of something good.

Oscar Crispell made a trip to Phoenixia on Monday for a load of coal for Smith and Hesley.

A comedy, in three acts, entitled, "Daddy," will be given in the church on February 24. Look for hand bills.

Only One Little Cry.
My little daughter, having a little boy playmate who was scornful of anyone who cried, tried always to be as brave as he. One day she had taken a tumble and soiled her dress. When I asked her if it hurt her she said: "Yes, mamma, but I didn't cry. Just one little cry fell out, but I wiped it right off." Chicago Tribune.

MONEY STILL POURING INTO SWINDLER'S OFFICE.
(Dr. J. Grant Lyman, from a Bertillon photograph)

New York, Feb. 17.—Despite the widespread publication of the discovery that J. H. Putnam, maintaining stock brokerage offices in Broad street, and Dr. J. Grant Lyman, said to be a notorious swindler, are the same man, checks and money are still rolling into the office here.

In one day more than $15,000 in checks were received in the mail.

The postal authorities momentarily expect to arrest the man, who has been reported in Baltimore and Washington. He will be charged with using the mails to defraud by selling out stocks on the installment plan.

Twenty-five complaints on deals in Ohio are ready to be placed against him. Sixteen subpoenas, including one for Dr. Lyman, are being issued.

As in the experiment in railroad ing, so in the advertising world, it has been found that while large display advertising is undoubtedly best, the big department store and mercantile house, it is too expensive to be practical for the needs of the average men and women in business or private life.

So those who are interested in the great scheme of newspaper ad-

Little Talks With

Just at this time the railroads of the country, especially the New York Central, are experimenting with powdered fuel as motive power for their locomotives. There have been several patents for the burning of this sort of fuel registered, and, of course, the process is as yet a secret, but the principal of this powdered fuel is well known.

The theory upon which the scientists are working is that powdered fuel is not only consumed when burned in transmission, as is the case with locomotives now being experimented with, and the result is that there is no waste, no smoke and the full power contained in the coal is obtained.

If this process proves to be a success, it will mean that a great step forward has been taken in the science of locomotion.

As in the experiment in railroad ing, so in the advertising world, it has been found that while large display advertising is undoubtedly best, the big department store and mercantile house, it is too expensive to be practical for the needs of the average men and women in business or private life.

So those who are interested in the great scheme of newspaper advertising have devised, or invented, a sort of "powdered advertisement" called the Want Ad.

The Want Ad has been found more practical for the needs of business, office, factory and store in buying, selling, renting, exchanging and hiring, and for very much the same reasons that the powdered coal will probably be found practical in running a locomotive.

The Want Ad is so small that it is burned in transmission—that is, it is quickly read by the searcher for one need or want, or another. It does not require a long time to read over the Want Columns for they are conveniently classified and are easily seen and read at a glance. Then, too, since they take up such small space there is no waste, for they cost but a few pennies, and, lastly, each little Want Ad expends its full force all over the community.

As railroad men are trying out powdered fuel, it will pay you to try out "powdered advertising" in the shape of the Want Ad of the newspaper.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SHERIFF

The will of Edmund M. Wilbur has been filed in the surrogate's court and a citation for its probate issued returnable February 23. The testator gives all his household furniture except family relics and heirlooms to his daughter, Dorothy W. McMillan, and the heiresses and heirs, with the balance of the estate he divides equally among his four children, Dorothy W. McMillan, Charles S. Wilbur, Frances J. Wilbur and T. Gaston Wilbur. The son, Charles J. Wilbur, is appointed executor. The will was executed July 12, 1915, and witnessed by William V. Barham and Byron L. Davis. The value of the real estate is $100 and the personal property $1,000. Byron L. Davis appeared for the executor.

The will of Margaret Wilford of Napanoch was filed and a citation for its probate was issued returnable March 7. The testatrix divides her estate equally among her sons, Christopher Wilford, Henry Wilford, John Wilford, and grandson, Frank Wilford. Henry Kestner, of Brooklyn is appointed executor. The will was executed April 20, 1901, and witnessed by Cornelius P. McLaughlin and Bernhard M. Meyerhoff, both of Brooklyn. The value of the estate is $7,700 personal property. Cornelius P. McLaughlin of Brooklyn is attorney for the executor.

A petition for a judicial settlement of the account of John L. Van Wagoner as administrator of the estate of Albert Van Duser of the town of Denning was filed and a citation issued returnable March 21. In the matter of the judicial settlement of the account of Henry M. Longendyke as administrator of the estate of Emma J. Longendyke, executrix of the estate of James A. Lown of the town of Woodstock, a petition for a judicial settlement was filed and a citation issued returnable March 9. J. DePuy Hasbrouck appeared for the administrator.

Powley Estate Appraised.

County Treasurer Snyder, as appraiser under the taxable transfer act, has filed his report of appraisal of the estate of Joseph L. Powley of this city. The personal property amounts to $2,524.13; the real estate is valued at $8,550; the debts, commissions, expenses of administration, etc., amount to $4,562.16, leaving a net estate of $6,512.07, which is exempt from tax. Josephine A. Powley, the administratrix, was represented by Frederick Stephan, Jr.; Joseph H. Vanderlyn appeared for the state comptroller.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1509.—A Trim and Becoming Style. Junior Dress in Semi Princess Style, With Convertible Collar. Plaid woolen in soft blue and brown tones would be nice for this, or shepherd check suiting with facings of white pique. For more dressy effect, one could choose poplin, taffeta or velveteen, with facings of silk or satin. Plaid silk with brown velvet, white satin with black taffeta, or museline with poplin would all be equally attractive. The pattern is cut with panel fronts, that join full skirt and waist portions. The waist back has no lines. It has a deep tuck at the sides, and is stitched over the skirt below the belt. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. It requires 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for a 14 years size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up-to-date 1916 large Spring and Summer Catalogue, containing over 400 designs of Ladies' Misses' and Children's Patterns, as well as the latest Embroidery Designs, also a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, giving valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

WOODLAND.

Woodland, Feb. 16.—The Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church held a rag carpet bazaar at the home of Mrs. Fred Green, featuring an amount of sixty people, ten dollars being taken of the table. Proceeds going to the minister's salary. They all enjoyed a very pleasant day. A snow storm of about five inches came unexpectedly, which will result in fine sleighing. Other snowbirds have gone to Depew to visit friends. The Ladies Club of Woodstock held their last meeting at the home of Mrs. G. Sprague.

Mrs. Norman Cole and son have been visiting relatives in this place for the past week.

Remains are that wedding bells will soon ring in this place. Mrs. James Conway has been ill for a week. Dr. Green attended her.

Services in the M. E. Church are as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11; Epworth League at 2:45 p. m.; preaching at 7:30 p. m.; prayer meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

We are having excellent services in the M. E. Church. If you don't believe it, come and hear them for yourself.

Maud Hoyt, who has been visiting friends at Woodstock, has returned to her home in this place.

There is no need of the thermometer worrying as long as the thermometer stands below zero.

The Laurel Reath will give a play, entitled, "A Bunch of Roses," Tuesday. All come out and see it. Ice cream and cake served after.

SOUTH ROUNDOUT.

South Roundout, Feb. 17.—On Friday and Saturday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Tancan of South Roundout will be at the Orpheum where they will give their military comedy act; also Rub a Little Lemon in, with music and singing. Mr. and Mrs. Tancan carry their own scenery.

George Robinson of Nyack called on friends here last week.

George Wolfe of Briarcliff visited relatives here on Monday.

Mrs. C. Stingle, who has been seriously ill, is some better at present.

Owing to the illness of our pastor there was no preaching service on Sunday. The C. E. meeting was led by Edwin Marchant.

Cortland Hicks spent a couple of days with relatives at Marlinton last week.

Edison Marchant has returned home from a trip to New York.

Arthur Mauer is attending Spencer's Business School at Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Vetoski spent Sunday with relatives at Roundout.

Mrs. Lydia Hyatt of New York spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clair, on Second street.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Frank Miller entertained Mrs. Margaret Hyatt, Mrs. Charles McDonald, Mrs. John Mauer and Mrs. Leslie McKinley at a quaking party.

On Saturday evening, February 5, Mrs. John Schurer entertained a number of relatives at her home on Front street in honor of her 63rd birthday.

Russell Mauer of New York spent Sunday with his family on Second street.

BRANCH.

Branch, Feb. 17.—M. Van Demark of Winnisook called on friends here.

Miss Lulu Murray of Claryville visited her friend, Miss Anna Van Valkenburg, the week end.

Mrs. Rachel Kane and John Van called on Justice Hughes on Saturday to take papers out for Sheridan Satterlee, who visited her on that day. They had a quarrel and "Sher" struck Mrs. Kane in the face. Deputy Sheriff Murray from Claryville came up Tuesday for "Sher." The case has not been tried at this time as it is expected to come off on Wednesday.

E. B. Hughes has a fine pair of steers for sale. E. B. says he is not fond of driving oxen.

Miss Juda Curtis of Claryville is assisting Mrs. Rachel Kane with her housework.

James Van Valkenburg drove to Big Indian for a load of carpenters Monday, who have been home for a week's vacation. Jim always brings them home happy.

Carroll Joslin visited at "Biscuit Brook Lodge" Saturday night; also Charles Roper.

Uriah Satterlee called on friends in the Branch Friday.

The boys that are boarding at Mrs. Rachel Kane's presented John Van with a fine pair of overalls recently in appreciation of Mr. Van carrying their dinner to them hot every day.

PALENTOWN.

Palentown, Feb. 17.—Our teacher, Miss Harris, spent from Friday night until Sunday at her home in Ellenville.

Mabel Van Etten of Samsonville is attending school here at present.

Drawing timber to Brown's mill at Leibhardt and Shurtler's at Samsonville is the order of the day with the business men of this place.

The semi-tailored hat with a four cornered brim is a feature of the season. Some of the dressier hats also show this four cornered effect in the crowns, also. Lewis designed this very smart turban in white millan with narrow brim of black velvet and deep crown, the top of which is a perfect square. A bouquet of violets, even to the tinsel wrapping, sets on the side of the crown. In the illustration the brim is turned up in four cornered style and faced with glazed kid. A rose and spray of leaves afford smart trimming.

MANY ACTIVITIES OF THE FEDERATION

The members of the executive committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs found many matters of importance to consider at the regular meeting held at the home of the president, Mrs. C. K. Moulton, this morning. In addition to the routine business of the meeting, a report was given concerning the supper recently given by the Federation for the raising of funds to carry on the philanthropic and educational work in which the Federation is engaged. The gratifying sum of a little more than $100 was realized as the net proceeds of the supper. Warm words of appreciation were spoken for the generous assistance given the Federation by the Y. M. C. A. board of directors in the use of their dining room and kitchen, etc., at the association building; for the use of silver, china, etc., donated by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., and for the excellent musical program presented by T. Crosby, J. McIlroy and B. Riccobono of the Kingston Symphony Society. The secretary was authorized to write a letter of thanks to each of the above mentioned organizations.

A communication was read from Mrs. Gillespie of Saugerties, one of the directors of the Third District Branch of the State Federation, calling attention to five matters of importance to local Federations: the privilege of being a part of the entertaining body of women who will not act as hostesses of the great biennial meeting of the National Federation in New York city next spring, together with the necessary assistance needed from each affiliated Federation; the desirability of every Federation woman's owning the "Federation Year Book"; also keeping in touch with the "General Federation Magazine"; the need of raising the standard of district meetings; and the need of additional funds with which to make these meetings more interesting and helpful. It was voted that at the general meeting in March, all Federation members desiring to place in the hands of the manager of this district, Mrs. Fessenden, a small fund which shall be for use in this matter of speakers, etc., for district meetings, shall be given the opportunity of giving ten cents each toward such fund.

Two other points of interest in connection with the March meeting were considered and acted upon. The Monday Club expect to be the hostesses at this meeting and have in mind a noted speaker whom they hope to secure to address the women of Kingston, provided they are not bound to hold this meeting in the third Saturday in March. The Federation voted, under the circumstances, to grant the Monday Club the privilege of holding this general meeting on either the Saturday before or after the third Saturday, if found necessary.

It was reported that the Social Center Association, that owing to the great amount of sickness in the neighborhood of the Federation House, classes in sewing had been discontinued for two or three weeks, but had now resumed, greatly to the delight of the children. The same was true of the customary Saturday evening gatherings, which would be held this week for the first in some time.

Dr. Day, chairman of the Public Health Committee told of the work of Miss Betz, the tuberculosis visiting nurse, now resident at the Federation House, which included five clinics at the Federation House, in which 17 patients were given needed help. Several of the cases were those of children showing decidedly pre-tuberculous tendencies. Dr. Day was the physician in attendance at four of the clinics, and Dr. Gates at one. Dr. Day also told of the plans for the coming "Baby Week," which will be observed in Kingston, as elsewhere throughout the country, beginning with Monday, March 6.

There can be no doubt but this movement will prove one of the most potential conservation efforts ever put forth, as it looks to the conservation of our future citizens. Throughout the entire week there will be a child welfare exhibit at the Federation House, Miss Betz in charge. Here it will be possible for mothers to learn all about the proper feeding of infants, and their other needs, from practical illustrations and demonstrations. On Tuesday evening, March 7, there will be given at St. Mary's Hall, lantern slides, a charming entertainment and dance, for the purpose of raising funds for public health and other Federation work in the community.

Of course, the lantern slides will be educational and will take up but a comparatively brief period of time. The entertainment will consist of a play, and a most interesting and charming one, called "The Theft of Thistle-down," and will be given by a number of our younger boys and girls, who will have the privilege of special training for the play. Mrs. Vernon Hull is the chairman of the entertainment committee, and will be assisted by Mrs. C. K. Moulton, Mrs. Fessenden, Miss Thompson, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Reed, Miss Van Keuren, Miss Drake, Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy, Mrs. O'Meara, Mrs. Grace V. Gray, Miss Van Hoesen, Mrs. Frank Merritt, Mrs. J. W. Leary, Mrs. Frank Patchin, Mrs. R. E. Leighton, Mrs. Van Leuven, Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Meagher. Mrs. Hull has asked Mrs. Fessenden, Mrs. Moulton and Mrs. Simmons to act as a special committee to look after the costumes for the young actors and actresses. After the play, dancing will be enjoyed by all. School children from the grades will be admitted to the affair for ten cents and adults for fifty cents. On the Thursday of "Baby Week," a free clinic for children and babies will be held at the Federation House, and will be in charge of a number of our ablest physicians and nurses. All who purchase tickets for the Tuesday evening in "Baby Week" will be investing in some measure in healthy, robust, able bodied and sound minded citizens rather than those of opposite conditions, because of lack of necessary care and nurture in their childhood.

The meeting was reminded that from now on all interested in the prison reform movement could keep themselves posted as to the men's viewpoint in Sing Sing by reading the "N. Y. L. Bulletin," which appears weekly at the Kingston City Library. The meeting then adjourned.

OUR Final Clean-Up Sale ends on the above days. You know what values you received during the closing days of last year's sale. Couple this with the fact that we are going to make extensive alterations to the interior of our store, which include complete renovation of the second floor, new Circassian walnut fixtures, new side racks, new mirrors, the work-room to be removed from the second to the third floor, and many other improvements to make this store more convenient to our customers and one of the most attractive cloak and suit houses in the Hudson Valley.

In order to clear our racks of the entire what's left stock of Fall and Winter Coats, Suits, Skirts, Dresses and Furs, we start Thursday morning, February 17th, one of the most gigantic clearance sales ever inaugurated in the annals of Kingston and of Ulster county.

The sale will continue until Saturday, February 19th, after which time we turn our store over to the carpenters, painters and masons. This is your last chance and an opportunity that should not be missed by one woman of this city or county. If you fail to attend this sale, you have but yourself to blame. NEVER SUCH VALUES! NEVER SUCH PRICES!

WEATHER WUNNIES ICE HARVESTERS

The sudden rise in the temperature is causing the ice men some worry and they are in hope that the weather will again turn out cold so that the ice harvest underway may be completed. The Foster Scott Ice Company has a gang of two hundred men busy harvesting ice at Steep Rocks and the work will continue until the ice becomes too soft to handle.

Work was started this afternoon in the Rondout creek near the Wilbur bridge harvesting the ice which will be hoisted into the Quigley ice house. The ice runs from 8 to 9 1/2 inches and is of good quality. Efforts will be made to fill the house if possible.

Up the river near Albany the ice men have started harvesting and are securing 11 inch ice.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

The automobile bureau of the secretary of state has received a number of complaints that the enamel on the new license plates peels off. The Manhattan Supply, which had the contract to supply 200,000 plates has agreed to replace all defective plates. The cause of the trouble has not been learned.

The new automobile owner's license card which is issued by the secretary of state this year is much more convenient than those issued last season. The cards are slightly smaller and are of convenient size to be carried in an ordinary bill fold while those which were used last year were so large that they had to be folded to be conveniently carried.

Attacked by a Negro.

It is reported that on Tuesday evening while a young girl was returning to her home on Franklin street from uptown a negro leaped out from an alley way and attempted to choke her. Failing in his attempt as she was warmly bundled up, it being a cold night, he made an effort to blindfold her by placing a handkerchief over her eyes. The girl screamed for help and a young man who heard her cry dashed to her assistance. When the negro saw that aid was coming he turned and dashed away making good his escape. The girl is subject to nervous spells and her trying experience has confined her to her home. It is expected, however, that she will fully recover from the effects of the shock within a few days. The attack occurred in the early evening about 8 o'clock.

Porton's Umbrella Snake.

Venomous snakes take the place of wild beasts in Porton, and their attacks are formidable, says a Japanese traveler, who has just returned from a trip in the southern island. There is a venomous snake on that island by the name of amaranahel, so called from its umbrella-like head. This snake is generally found in water, places, often in a ditch flowing out of a kitchen. A maid working in a kitchen is not infrequently started at the ugly appearance of the snake. The animal makes a peculiar noise by the snail movement of its tongue. A slight touch of its fangs is fatal. A native of the island was bitten by the snake in the thumb. A doctor who treated the wound made a simple application. The man returned home, thinking the wound would soon be cured, but to his consternation he found it had swollen up. He soon lost sight and hearing. Next morning he was dead.—East and West News.

Billy, four, and his mother called to see a new baby at a hospital. His mother suggested to her friend that the baby might have Billy's coat to wear home. Billy protested vigorously. "Why, Billy," said his mother, "the poor baby will have to stay here; she will have no coat to wear home if you don't lend her yours." Billy replied: "Well, she came without a coat, didn't she?"

GUADAGANOLO HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

Charles Guadagnolo, who shot and killed William Baxter, or Charles Baxter, at his saloon near the Saugerties railroad depot Monday night, was held to await the action of the grand jury at the close of a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace William Chidester at Saugerties Tuesday afternoon, but immediately after his return to Kingston he sought to be released on bail. The application for bail was opposed by District Attorney Traver and was denied by Judge Jenkins, but Guadagnolo's attorneys expect to renew the application later.

Dead Man's Last Nickel.

Investigation has shown that Baxter, who was killed, was at times a professional tramp who eked out the precarious livelihood of that fraternity by selling shoe strings when occasion demanded, and at other times doing occasional odd jobs. When he entered Guadagnolo's saloon Monday night, he probably did not have much money about him—a five cent piece was all the money that was found in his clothing by Coroner Ernest A. Kelly.

Baxter was sitting at a table at the farther end of the room when Michael Passero and Patry Baroniglio, both of whom live at Glasco, entered the saloon with an Italian friend from Rochester, N. Y., who had been visiting them and was then on his way home. The north-bound train was late and the trio walked up the path from the Saugerties station to Guadagnolo's saloon, which is situated part way up the hill directly in the rear of the depot.

Did Baxter Butt In?

When the trio entered the bar room, Baxter was fondling a dog belonging to Guadagnolo and the young Italian proprietor was standing behind the bar. They were being served with drinks and cigars when Baxter arose from the table at which he had been sitting and walked to the bar, where he ordered a glass of beer.

The beer served to Baxter was put out by Guadagnolo in the kind of glass known as a "shotner," which is in the shape of an inverted pyramid and is built for rough usage. The glass itself is thick and heavy. Baxter stood several feet from the newcomers when, they say, he threw his glass, which was empty, at Guadagnolo.

All Over In One Minute.

When Guadagnolo found himself covered with blood, he turned to the back-bar, and opening one of the drawers in it, drew out a revolver. He pointed at Baxter and fired. Baxter dropped where he had been standing.

The entire occurrence, from the throwing of the glass to the shooting by Guadagnolo, it was agreed by both the Glasgow witnesses, occupied one minute.

The bullet entered Baxter's skull slightly above and to the rear of the right ear, and after plunging its way through the brain lodged against another part of the skull. Part of the brain oozed out of the hole made by the entrance of the bullet. Baxter lost consciousness the instant he was struck by the bullet and remained in an unconscious condition until his death, which occurred at one o'clock Wednesday morning.

Guadagnolo Wants Freedom.

The warrant issued for Guadagnolo was for assault in the first degree, and although a more serious charge could have been made after his victim died, he was arraigned before Justice Chidester on that charge and that is the charge on which he was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Immediately after his return to jail his counsel, Andrew J. Cook, and City Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr., applied to Judge Jenkins to have him admitted to bail. The application was opposed by District Attorney Traver and was denied by the judge. His counsel expect to renew the application in the usual way later at special term of the supreme court.

Guadagnolo has been visited at the jail by a number of young Italians, and a large number also were at Saugerties on Wednesday when the hearing took place before Justice Chidester.

Trying to Locate Relatives.

District Attorney Traver has communicated with the police of Newark, N. J., where Baxter made his home and has requested them to ascertain, if possible, whether Baxter has any relatives living there. An autopsy was performed Wednesday afternoon by Dr. A. A. Stern of this city and Dr. B. W. Gifford of Saugerties at the morgue of Coroner Ernest A. Kelly, who will hold the body pending receipt of instructions as to its disposition from Baxter's relatives, if they can be found.

WISCONSIN WANTS NAPANOCH CONVICT

Under Sheriff Robert Every today brought Anthony Penninger, alias John Ottin, an inmate of the Napanoch Reformatory, to the county jail in execution of orders from Governor Whitman to the effect that he transfer the man to a sheriff of the state of Wisconsin, who had traveled east to get Penninger, a fugitive from justice, charge of obtaining money under false pretenses being held against him in that state.

Penninger, who today finished his term in the Napanoch Reformatory, is charged with selling a Packard car which was not his in the city of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, on September 3, 1914, and he has been a fugitive from justice since. It is charged that he received the sum of $500 for the car and made his exit, later coming to New York state, where some violation of the law lodged him in the reformatory. The Wisconsin authorities in that way got an agent for his capture upon the completion of his term in the institution. The agent is now in town awaiting the hearing to be given the man this afternoon at the court house before Judge Jenkins.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Feb. 17.—Tom Jones either was misquoted, or he is trying to kid the merry villagers when he said that "Jesse Willard will weigh 240 pounds when he fights Frank Moran on March 8."

We'll wager a box of stogies with Tomaso—or anyone else—that Willard will weigh closer to 265 or 270 pounds when he fights Moran than he will to 240.

Willard's in-the-ring weight for his fight with Jack Johnson was exactly 247 pounds. The big Kansan, you must remember, was trained down to bone and muscle for that fracas. He was down to a weight as low as he could go—and still retain his strength. And Willard reached that reduced condition only after months of constant training.

In the face of this, Jones would have the populace believe that in less than a month's time Willard can get down to a lower weight than he carried in his Johnson fight. When Willard started actual training for the battle with the negro, he weighed around 270, yet it took him nearly two months to trim down to 247.

From what we hear, Willard right now weighs somewhere in the neighborhood of 310 pounds. That bulk is due to the fact that he hasn't done any hard training since he left Havana. If the 310 pound figure is correct, then it's a fairly safe gamble that Willard will beam around 265 or 270—at the lowest—when he meets Moran.

Those Havana Weights.

The "official"—but untrue—weights for that Johnson-Willard battle were: Willard, 238; Johnson, 227. The actual weights were: Willard, 247; Johnson, 225.

After the men had weighed in the ring, Ben Rosenthal, who did the weighing, announced the real weights to the newspaper men—247 and 225. But Jack Curley immediately requested the newspaper men to make the weights 238 and 227, despite Rosenthal's protests.

The reason? Well, the exact weights showed Willard outweighed Johnson 22 pounds; the fake weights showed only an 11 pound advantage for the white man. Just what was gained by attempting to disguise the actual weights never has been made clear to us, but Curley probably didn't want it known broadcast that Willard had such a big advantage in bulk.

Moran in Shape Now.

Frank Moran is in condition right now to jump into the ring and battle for the championship. The blond Pittsburgher has kept in shape all winter and at this moment is only a few pounds above fighting bulk. He could rid himself of those in a couple of days of strenuous training.

Moran probably will enter the ring weighing around 265. That will give Willard an advantage of from 50 to 65 pounds in bulk, as well as nearly six inches in height and many inches in reach.

While Moran is up in the wilds of New York state, developing his wind and stamina with outdoor work in the mountains, Willard is reducing via the gymnasium route. Willard aims to take off the largest portion of the fat indoors, doing road work mostly for the purpose of getting back his wind.

Moran won't do a lot of boxing in preparation for this bout. He feels that he doesn't need it because he has been boxing almost constantly during the past few months. But when he does take it up, he's going to get for himself a sparring partner built along the lines of Willard—a la Woolworth building.

Moran aims to try out his body punches and swings for the jaw on the giant and after experimenting will decide upon his plan of battle for the Willard battle—whether it will be an unvarying attack on the body or a mixture of tries for the head and body.

Willard is working along the same lines. His corps of sparrers will be about the size of Moran, and he will develop an attack—and a defense—designed to halt his small rival.

No. 6 Defeats High School.

The girls' basketball team of School No. 6 outclassed a team of girls from the sophomore class of the high school yesterday afternoon by the score of 26 to 14. Both teams shot with a high degree of accuracy considering the age of the players. The No. 6 team was composed of Leona Christiana, Mildred Steward, Hester Van Aken, Ruth Iana, Helen Dederick and Glenn Guinick, with Margaret Hushon, Marie One and Catherine Edging as substitutes. The sophomore team was composed of Anna Hurley, Elsie Philips, Margaret Meeker, Ida Lasher and Gertrude Revy. Miss Ruth Smith, a Kingston Academy graduate and former basketball player of that school, officiated.

Local Scenes in Movies.

ARETAS PLAYERS MAKING PROGRESS

From the outcome of the games played on Wednesday evening in the big pinocle tournament being held by the three local Odd Fellow lodges it is evident that Captain Bush's study of the rules and the secret practice work and signals which he has drilled in his fellow players has been of some use as Aretas Lodge won three games from Kosciusko Lodge, which is leading the league at the present time. Aretas also won one game from C. S. Clay Lodge. Captain Whitbeck of Kosciusko, however, is not discouraged by the showing made by his team and said that errors will sometimes be made but that his team of huskies were still leading in the pennant race and the other Odd Fellows had better watch out and not become too confident for he fully expected to see Kosciusko roomed by the three lodges who were members of the teams. This morning the drug stores about town were kept busy supplying the demand for medicine to cure sore throats. As Captain Bush said, however, it takes more than cheering to win a pinocle contest.

The standing of the teams to date follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Kosciusko Lodge	19	11
C. S. Clay Lodge	15	18
Aretas Lodge	14	19

FIELD OF SPORTS.

Notes of Baseball, Pugilism and Other Lines of Athletics.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—As soon as he is able to travel Jess Willard will leave for New York to get in shape for his match with Frank Moran, which has been set for March 25. The champion was reported gradually improving today, and it was believed that his severe cold would not keep him confined to his home many more days.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 17.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, had things all his own way in his ten round affair with Johnny Creely of Cincinnati last night. The little champion hit Creely wherever and whenever he desired and administered several punishment to the Cincinnati lad all through the final round.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 17.—His body frozen stiff, Thomas Seymour, 45, one time national league star, was found dead near Cascade, in Long Valley. He had gone into the mountains several days ago to look after some mining property he owned near Cascade.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—A new world's record for plunging the length of a 60 foot tank was held today by J. P. Lechter, of the Chicago Athletic Club. Lechter plunged the distance in 15 seconds. The former record of 19 1/5 seconds was held by Craig Redmond of Chicago.

New York, Feb. 17.—Setting new swimming marks seems to be Herbert Vollmer's long suit. Three new world records were made by the Columbia University swimmer last night. The new figures are 2:34 4/5 for the 220 yards, 3:5 of a second better than the old mark. The same mark applies to the 200 meters, the officials accepting the figures for that distance. The mark for 200 yards was 2:10 4/5, 2:5 of a second better than the figures set up by the Australian, Healy. The latter mark has never received official sanction, but it was the fastest ever made in a 25 yard tank.

New York, Feb. 17.—Sam Murbarger, manager for Jack Dillon, today offered to bet $10,000 at even money that his man could knock out Frank Moran in ten rounds. Murbarger made the offer at the same time that he hurled a challenge at Moran to meet Dillon here on March 8, the original date for the Moran-Willard bout. "If Dillon can't stop Moran in ten rounds I don't want a cent for Dillon's services," declared Murbarger.

Back to Albany.

Mrs. Margaret Brice of Cedar street was arrested on Wednesday night by Policeman Fout on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. This morning when she was arraigned before Recorder Lang it was brought out that she had been released in December from St. Ann's Home at Albany where she had been sentenced for six months by Judge Jackson in court case. She is a woman who seems to be unable to keep away from the temptation of the flowing bowl and the recorder re-committed her to the home at Albany for a term of six months.

Muggy is in Jail.

Frank Carle, better known as "Muggy" of No. 79 Greenkill avenue, was arrested on Wednesday night for being drunk and disorderly and using profane language around the West Shore station. This morning Muggy said that he had no recollection of creating a disturbance which was evidently a sure indication that he must have been carrying a good sized car of joy water. Recorder Lang imposed a sentence of $5 or five days at the county hotel.

Curlett Making a Record.

Sam Curlett, well known to the basketball fans of this city as one of the most popular members of the old Company M team, is winning honors in the State League in Pennsylvania, where he is playing with the Wilkes-Barre team. Sam leads the league with a margin of 57 points over his nearest rival. He has secured 432 points so far during the league season.

Sixty Days for Larceny.

John Davis of the town of Marlborough was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail Wednesday by Justice Northrip on a charge of petit larceny.

HOLY CROSS BEATS PEERLESS FIVE

The Peerless Five took a whack at the Holy Cross team last night and endeavored to break the winning streak held by the Pine Grove avenue representatives, but were given a big surprise, as things did not turn out that way and were forced to content themselves with the short end of a 29-15 score.

The game was fast and the liveliest ever played in this hall and another record-breaking crowd attended.

The Peerless with the aid of Dittus, the star forward of the Crescents, were on the job early but the game was somewhat delayed as Morham, of the Holy Cross team, was absent. Joyce, of the high school team, and a former member of the Holy Cross, donned a uniform and the game was put on its way.

Accurate passwork enabled the Holy Cross to roll up a large score from the very start. Soper getting three fields in succession. Silis also had his shooting eye with him and held Dittus to a standstill. Rourke was as usual here, there and everywhere. For Joyce, it can be said much credit is due to this clever high school athlete. He played a wonderful game throughout. Butler's guarding and blocking was a feature.

Cism played a good game for the Peerless, as did Dittus, Dolson and Johnson. The latter made two wonderful shots of different styles. Hartman also played a hard game.

After the game, dancing was enjoyed as usual.

The score:
Holy Cross, F. F. T.
Rourke, rf. 3 1 7
Soper, lf. 4 0 8
J. Silis, c. 5 0 10

WORTHINGTON OUT TO BEAT BERRY.

When J. Howard Berry of the University of Pennsylvania essays to grab the pentathlon honors at the big relay games at Philadelphia for the second time in April he will again find a worthy rival in the person of Harry Worthington, the great all-round athlete from Dartmouth College. That Worthington is going to be in phenomenal shape this spring was demonstrated at Buffalo February 12, when running the second relay for Dartmouth against the Seventy-fourth Regiment team, he dashed 220 yards in the great time of 22 2/5 seconds. This performance was done with a "relay start," which is all to the runner's advantage. On the other hand, it was done on an eight-lap track and in flat shoes. It is hardly necessary to explain either that the Seventy-fourth Regiment track is the fastest indoor running oval in the world. The Dartmouth team beat the Buffalo soldiers by about thirty yards; Trenhold (220 yards) Worthington, (220 yards), Lagay, (440 yards), and Riley, (440 yards), running in that order.

FLATBUSH.

Flatbush, Feb. 17.—Clarence Davis put a team of fine work horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osterhoudt spent the week end in Kingston. Miss Mary Burhans of Kingston has been staying at the home of her brother, John Burhans, caring for the sick.

Alvin Kieffer is spending a few days in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Osterhoudt spent the week end in Kingston.

There will be preaching services as usual Sunday by the Rev. H. I. Hoag, of Saucerties.

Miss Rachel and Howard Osterhoudt have returned from New York, bringing grip colds with them.

Mrs. Benjamin Osterhoudt is quite ill again.

John W. Burhans, a life long resident, died at his home Tuesday morning after a short illness of pneumonia. He leaves a wife and daughter, both ill now of grip. Mr. Burhans was a kind neighbor, always ready and willing to do a kind deed. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Funeral services will be held from the home of his sister, Miss Mary Burhans, Kingston, on Thursday, Interment in Willoughby Cemetery. The family have the sympathy of their many friends.

Mrs. Harold Osterhoudt is visiting friends in Poughkeepsie.

Dance at St. Remy.
Friday evening Pokonois Tribe, No. 344, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold their first of a series of leap year dances in their hall at St. Remy. Past District Deputy Burton G. Shultis of Pokonois Tribe, chairman of the committee in charge, assures every one who attends that it will be an evening well spent. There will be plenty of shed room for those who come in sleighs. Music will be furnished by an orchestra and refreshments will be served during the evening for a small sum. Red Men from Kingston, Esopus and Saugerties will be present to help make the evening merry.

Dance at Glasco.
A benefit dance will be held in Firemen's Hall at Glasco on Friday night. Prizes will be given and good music will be in attendance. Automobiles will leave the central post office at 8 o'clock.

Same Trouble Here.
Newburgh and Poughkeepsie residents are complaining of the mail services between the two cities. They claim a letter mailed before 10 o'clock in the evening does not reach the other city until next day at noon, first going to New York. While a letter mailed after 10 o'clock is sent over the river and arrives at the destination in the morning. The same trouble also exists between Newburgh and Beacon.

A Simultaneous Disappearance.
A young man who had been shoveling walks and doing odd jobs about the boarding house of Mrs. Crump in Poughkeepsie disappeared and at the same time two gold watches and a small sum of money also disappeared. The young man was about 18 years old and had been about town for several days.

LADLETON.
Ladleton, Feb. 17.—Another snow storm visited this place on Saturday night, and Sunday about eight inches of snow fell on the level. Whooping cough is the order of the day here.
Orval Crawford of Winnisnook is in this place visiting friends and relatives for a few days.
All were saddened to hear of the death of Fred Crawford at New Brunswick, N. J. He leaves many friends and relatives in this place.
Mrs. John Duff, spent Friday with Mrs. Frank Dulat.
Sherman Anderson is drawing logs from Mr. Otto's place in Red Hill.
On Tuesday Sheridan Satterlee of Frost Valley was brought before Justice of the Peace David Hall at Claryville and fined $20. A few days before Mr. Satterlee struck Mrs. Rachel Kane in the face. She was wearing glasses, and it cut her face some.

happy days!

"Tux" is the happy smoke. It just packs the smoker's calendar so plumb full of fragrant delight that a gloomy day can't crowd itself in edgewise. That mild, soothing taste of "Tux" has introduced many a man to the joy of pipe-smoking and a regular unending procession of happy days.

MARCUS J. WRIGHT
Pastor
Ex-Confederate General
"Owing to its mild, sweet flavor, Tuxedo is superior to all other tobaccos. I enjoy smoking it immensely and recommend it to all smokers."

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

By far the most pleasant pipe-smoke in the world is Tuxedo. Think of the supreme satisfaction of being able to smoke your pipe all day, and day after day, without a particle of discomfort! You can do it with Tuxedo—because Tuxedo is made wonderfully mild and absolutely biteless by the original "Tuxedo Process."

That process is what makes Tuxedo different from any other tobacco made. Others have tried to imitate it, but never successfully.

Just try Tuxedo for a week and you'll smoke it ever after.
